It's an insult to your intelligence, but some unscrupulous dealers try it. For instance: you're suffering from some Skin, Scalp or Scrofulous affection, or are feeling "rundown" or "used-up," There's a torpid liver, impure blood, and all that may come from it.

You've decided, wisely, that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the medicine to help you. You know that it's guaranteed to do so, as no other blood purifier is.

Can you ask more?

But what is best for you to take isn't always best for the dealer to sell. He offers something that's "just as good." Is it likely? If the makers of a medicine can't trust it, can you?

If they can trust it, then why not guarantee it, as the makers of the "Discovery" do?

The genuine sold only through authorized agents, at the uniform price of $1.00.

Beware of spurious imitations or dilutions, offered at less prices.

It's an old saw, but it's a good one. See that you get what you bargain for—make purchases that will bear investigation. This advice is especially appropriate in the purchase of

THE BRITISH TRADE

A Great Gathering in Session in London.

Second Congress of the Chamber of Commerce.

All of Queen Victoria's Numerous Colonies

Send Delegates to the Great Convention.

Resolutions from Winnepeg Which Have a Direct Bearing on the Commerce of the United States.

London, June 28.—The second congress of the members of the chamber of commerce of the British empire opened to-day at 10 o'clock in the hall of the Merchant Tailors' company, one of the richest corporations in Threadneedle street.

Sir John Lubbock, president of the London chamber of commerce, presided, and assisted by the committee, welcomed the delegates sent from every portion of the empire.

The committee consists of the Right Hon. Sir John Lubbock, bart. M. P.; Sir Albert Kaye Rollit, LL. D, M. P.; the Right Hon. Lord Brassey, K. C. B.; Mr. James Alexander, Mr. Charles G. Arbuthnot, Sir George Baden Powell, K. C. M. G., M. P.; Mr. S. B. Boulton, Mr. J. Annan Bryce, Mr. R. W. Chamney, Sir Alfred Dent, K. C. M. G.; Mr. R. B. Dobell, Mr. W. Dunn, M. P.; Mr. J. A. Ewen, Mr. Roger Eykyn, Sir Robert Gillespie, Mr. S. S. Gladstone, Sir George Goldie, K. C. M. G.; Mr. Thomas R. Lob, Mr. Neville Lubbock, Mr. W. A. Arthur, M. P.; Mr. James E. Macdonald, Mr. H. M. Matheson, Mr. John Patterson, Mr. H. M. Paul, Mr. R. M. Stuart, Mr. W. J Thompson, Jr., Mr. James Whittak, Sir Frederick Young, K. C. M. G. The Right Hon. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, president of the board of trade, is vice president of the congress.

The bodies represented in the congress include the London chamber of commerce, the Birmingham chamber, the chamber of Canterbury, New Zealand, Montreal, Winnipeg, Capetown, Regina, Northwest Territory, Toronto, Trinidad, Sydney, Madras, Georgetown, British Guinea, Bombay, Lagos and nearly all the rest of the British empire.

It is a most remarkable gathering and is regarded by the commercial world as very important.

Its deliberations have a distinct influence upon imperial politics. The remarkable lead taken in trade resolutions by the colonies is generally commented upon. It is certain that the colonies have never before adopted so strong a tone in their suggestions to the mother country, and their present stand in this respect is thought to be chiefly influenced by the tariff laws of the United States and a determination to insist upon steps for their own protection and benefit.

Conversations with the delegates from abroad show that they feel that the colonies have little to gain by their attachment to the British empire unless some preference is given them in their trade relations with England over foreign countries.

This feeling, though exhibited most strongly by the Canadian delegates, is generally shared, and expressions of it are plainly manifest in the resolutions placed on the agenda paper.

One of the most important resolutions is that offered by the Winnipeg board of trade of Manitoba, as follows:

"That in the opinion of this congress the time has come, or is close at hand, when the people of Great Britain can with confidence look to the colonies and dependencies of the empire for that portion of their breadstuffs which they find it necessary to import from year to year.

"The rapid development of grain production in Canada, India and Australia during the past ten years clearly indicates that these countries will soon have annually an export surplus of grain in excess of the annual import demand of the British isles and it will be altogether unnecessary for the latter to look for supplies to foreign countries, and especially to those whose tariff laws are so framed as to strike especially at the trade interests of Great Britain.

"That this congress sees the best method of securing this end by a system in the mother country of tariff discriminating against the grain and other food products of foreign nations, and in favor of the import of such goods from the colonies and dependencies; and a similar discrimination by the colonies and dependencies in connection with tariff on other goods required to be imported by them.

"That this congress favors such a movement believing that its enforcement would serve as a check upon the natural selfishness which at the present time seems to inspire many nations in the framing of their tariff laws; and that its enforcement would prove a commercial counter-irritant, which would in a comparatively few years practically force the great nations of the world into a much freer system of trade intercourse than now exists between them."

The congress will also consider the imperial registration of trademarks; the adoption throughout the empire of the merchandise marks act, reform in bills of lading, factory legislation throughout the empire, commercial education, emigration and colonization, an imperial system of decimal currency, weights and measures, an international monetary union, imperial penny postage, direct telegraphic communication throughout the empire, Indian taxation, light railways, the abolition of the light duties, and treaties with native tribes (of Africa), and territorial delimitation.

Every attention is being paid to the entertainment of the delegates. Yesterday Sir John and Lady Lubbock held a reception and a conversasione at the South Kensington museum. To-day Lord and Lady Brassey will receive delegates at Park Lane.

STORM IN PENNSYLVANIA

In Many Places it Resembled a Cloud-Burst.

Much Damage Done to Property—Crops Washed Out—A Circus in the Gale.

Philadelphia, June 28.—A terrific storm passed over eastern Pennsylvania last night, and in many sections it assumed the proportions of a cloudburst.

In Reading the strtets were flooded, several houses were struck by lightning and a number of persons were more or less hurt.

In Chester county the storm was the worst in twenty years. Houses were unroofed, many were struck by lightning and at least a score of head of live stock were killed. At Crum Lynne a car on a train on the P. W. and W. was struck by lightning while in motion. Baggagemaster Wm. Lewis, of Chester, was probably fatally injured. A newsboy was knocked down but he will recover.

From messages received late last night and this morning from all over the eastern part of the state it looks as though the damage to crops will be immense. There is a rumor that half a dozen lives have been lost near Hamburg, Berks county, but it has not yet been verified.

Frederick Howard and Miss Emma Lewis, both of this city, were boating opposite Lancaster when the storm arose. Their boat capsized. Howard helped the girl to get a hold upon the upturned boat and then sank back exhausted and was drowned. Miss Lewis was drowned.

At Chester the streets and cellars were flooded and a circus tent blown down. This caused a panic and six persons were hurt.

MADE A CLEVER HAUL

Burglars Do a Slick Job in Chicago.

They Steal Everything in Sight, Crack Two Bottles of Wine and Then Depart.

Chicago, June 28.—Two bold burglaries were committed in this city at an early hour Saturday morning, the facts being suppressed by the police until this morning.

The house of Edward P. Lows, a prominent confectioner residing at 3733 Ellis avenue, and that of John T. Shayne, a well known furrier, at 3856 Lake avenue, were entered and the occupants in both cases chloroformed.

Mr. Lows' residence was ransacked and jewelry valued at $2,710 taken, while Mr. Shayne escaped with the loss of two watches, the burglars overlooking $3,500 worth of diamonds under his wife's pillow and $400 in a bag pinned to the drapery.

After leaving Mr. and Mrs. Shayne's sleeping room, the thieves proceeded to the dining-room, cracked two bottles of wine and enjoyed themselves. There is as yet no clue to the burglars.

AMERICAN POACHERS.

They Are Violating the Law in Hudson Bay.

Ottawa, Ont., June 28.—In the house of commons yesterday in reply to a question as to whether the government had taken notice of Gov. Schultz's announcement of the depredations of American poachers in Hudson bay, and whether these facts would be referred to the Bering sea arbitrators, Sir John Thompson said that the government had not lost sight of the matter and would take such steps as were necessary to protect Canadian interests.

The matter, he said, could no be referred to the Bering sea arbitrators as only questions which were fixed by the treaty could be so referred.

SEATTLE IN FLAMES.

People Thought Their Town Was to be Again Destroyed.

Seattle, June 28.—Fire last night threatened to sweep the town as it did three years ago, but the progress of the flames was checked after a loss of about half a million dollars had been caused.

The fire started in the heart of the city and gained headway so rapidly that consternation prevailed. Schwabacher Bros.' wholesale grocery was destroyed and the Hotel Northern was badly damaged. Dexter Horton's new bank building was saved by hard work. The insurance on Schwabacher's was $300,000.

AGAINST LOTTERIES.

New Orleans, June 28.—The general assembly has passed a bill whereby lotteries will not be allowed in the state after December 31, 1893. The act exempts from its operation the premium bond drawing of the city.

THE REPUBLICAN CLUBS

Of the Empire State in Session in Rochester.

A Large Increase in the Last Year.

The City Full of People to Ratify the Work of the Minneapolis Convention.

Rochester, N. Y., June 28.—The city is crowded with delegates to the annual convention of the State League of Republican clubs. The event is of more than local interest as it is practically the first great state ratification meeting to indorse the nominee and platform of the Minneapolis convention.

The league has had a great growth in this state during the past two years. At the convention in Saratoga in 1890 there were hardly two hundred clubs upon its roll.

Now there are over five hundred, with a membership of nearly one hundred thousand, and a large majority of these are represented. There are fully fifteen hundred delegates, and three times that many visitors have been in on regular and special trains since yesterday morning.

The convention was called to order at 11 o'clock in the rink by Hon. M. E. McAlpin, president of the league. He delivered an address of welcome, eulogized the work of the Minneapolis convention and prophesied an overwhelming victory in this state next November. The usual committees were then appointed. The convention will be in session for two or three days.

President McAlpine, in addressing the league, spoke as follows:

Gentlemen of the League: It again becomes my pleasant duty to welcome you to the councils of a convention of the republican clubs of the state of New York. I congratulate you and the republican party upon the splendid representation at this fifth annual convention of the league.

Starting as an experiment, the league has already demonstrated its efficiency as a component part of the party organization, and from a few clubs, with but a limited membership, now shows upon its official roll the record of more than 500 clubs, embracing over 100,000 members. The influence of such a body of workers cannot be even estimated.

The hosts are gathering for the conflict. Upon the one side are those who intimidate voters in the south and steal senators in the north. Upon the other side those who give to every man a ballot, to every ballot a count, and accept the result like men. Upon the one side those who would flood the country with a debased currency and for the honest workingman pay a dishonest dollar.

Upon the one side those who know but one dollar and honest dollar for the foreign manufacturer and a not less honest dollar for our own workingmen. Upon the one side those who would open the best market of the world to the unrestricted competition of the cheapest labor of the world and who stigmatize as a "fraud" the effort to care for and protect those who would give to the toiler in field and in factory, in the mine, the shop and the store, just recompense for his labor, by securing at home and abroad the best possible market for the products of that labor. Such are the opposing forces—our foes and our comrades.

What of the leaders? They follow one upon whose banner is inscribed the date "1888" and the words "defeated by Benjamin Harrison."

We follow one, the soldier who has never known defeat and whom we believe to be invincible. They boast a leader whom they say is better than his followers.

We don't deny the fact but fail to see the compliment. We know Benjamin Harrison not only as a republican, but as a type of the best American citizenship.

For second place they present one who has twice been defeated in his own congressional district and who is tainted with one of the worst forms of financial heresy, and an anti-civil service advocate.

We present the name of that brilliant journalist and successful diplomat—Whitelaw Reid.

Gentlemen of the Republican club—It is in support of such principles and under such leaders that we are enlisted. The cause and the leaders are worthy of our enthusiastic efforts and loyal devotions.

I believe that the republican clubs of the state of New York hold the key to the temple of victory, through them, better than through any other organization, can each voter be reached in person. Let our deliberations in this convention result in plans that shall bring republican truth home to every voter and secure the presence of every republican voter at the polls.

TOM PLATT.

He Writes a Letter Which Reads Very Smoothly.

Rochester, June 28.—Secretary Hedges read the following letters to the clubs:

New York, June 23.—To Col. E. A. McAlpine, Rochester: "If it were possible I would most cheerfully respond to your cordial invitation to attend the annual convention of the league on the 28th inst., but business of a pressing nature will prevent.

"The league will be a more potential factor in the canvass this fall than ever before. With its earnest and enthusiastic support of the ticket this state can be carried.

"Coldness or indifference on your part means disaster. Principles are greater than candidates. The necessity for sustaining the principles of the grand old party will rally all the faithful to the front during the pending struggle and the league will lead. Yours faithfully,

"T. C. PLATT."

GOV. M'KINLEY.

He Writes on the Beauties of Protection to Workingmen.

State of Ohio,
Office of the Governor.

Columbus, June 25.—Mr. Hedges, sec'y: My Dear Sir—"Public duties and engagements are so pressing that I am compelled to deny myself the pleasure of attending the convention. I take advantage of the opportunity, however, to send greetings. New York state will be the center of a great national political battle to be fought this fall. We shall eagerly watch events in your state. New York must be carried for Harrison and Reid. Both are "buckeyes" by birth. Ohio gave start to the league idea in politics and Ohio now with confidence calls upon the league men to see to it that they carry the banner of Harrison and Reid to victory.

"Be not deceived into a false sense of security by the bitter personal dissensions of the democracy. Let your aim be first to get out every republican vote, next to carry every doubtful and indifferent voter; next to win over those men who have hitherto voted the democratic ticket through habit or association, but who, if encouraged will vote for country rather than party—who prefer protected American industries to foreign free trade products; and finally to look after the young men—the first voters.

"The issue has been clearly drawn by the American platform of Minneapolis on the one side and by the revised free trade pronouncement at Chicago on the other side, notwithstanding the protest of one-third of the delegates to the convention.

"Our opponents have declared that American labor shall no the given the benefit of a tariff which shall represent the difference between the wages paid in the United States and those paid abroad, but that there shall be a tariff "for revenue only," no matter though the hum of industry be stilled and our people look for employment and find it not.

"The republican party eagerly, joyfully and exultingly accept the gauge of battle. Foremost in the fight will be the league of republican clubs. Theirs is the work of organization, education and inspiration which will culminate in a victory of such magnificent proportions that the world will take note that America is a nation in all the term implies—enjoying the fullest and broadest liberty of any on earth and capable of preserving its commercial as well as its political independence.

"Very truly yours,

WM. M'KINLEY, Jr.

FROM THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. Harrison Reminds the Boys That He Wants Votes.

Rochester, N. Y., June 28.—The letter from President Harrison was as follows:

My dear sir: have received an invitation from Mr. Hedges, the secretary of the league of republican clubs of New York, to attend the fifth annual convention of republican clubs at Rochester. It would give me great pleasure to meet with the young republicans of New York, but other engagements absolutely prevent an acceptance of the invitation.

"It will be an auspicious event in the great national campaign now opening, if the league clubs display their banners at once in the front line.

"They have that power to bring a diffusion and at the same time an energy to campaign work that campaign committees do not possess.

"I therefore extend my cordial greeting to the young republicans of New York and welcome them to a participation in the labors and honors of a great civil contest.

"I cannot in this letter discuss the great issues that are now presented for debate; but I venture to call your attention to the significant action of the Chicago convention upon the subject of the tariff. The majority report seemed to recognize that some regard might be had in tariff legislation for the interests of our American workingmen; that in making tariff reductions injury to our domestic interests should be avoided, and that such changes should be regardful of the labor and capital connected therewith.

"All of these declarations were stricken out by an overwhelming vote of the convention, and the resolutions must, in the light of this vote, it seems to me, be an affirmative declaration that democratic legislation upon the tariff will be without any regard to its effect upon the wages of American workmen, without any thought of its destructive effect upon American industries.

"What was rejected and what was adopted upon this subject at Chicago seems to me to constitute a declaration more extreme and more destructive than has ever before been promulgated by the democratic party.

"The republicans make light of this declaration and appeal with added confidence to American workingmen and American producers to sustain a policy always highly regardful of the interests of the American workingmen and producers.

"The great business interests of our country will not fail to appreciate the disturbing and disastrous effects of so radical a policy upon the general prosperity.

"Very truly yours,
BENJAMIN HARRISON."

CARNEGIE'S FORT.

The Protected Industries are Barricaded.

Port Holes to Shoot Through and Other Indication of a Great Struggle.

Pittsburg, June 28.—What may be considered the first aggressive move in the precipitation of trouble between the iron workers and the Carnegie firm, at Homestead, has been made by the Carnegie firm. Late Saturday night 100 open-hearth workmen were discharged, thereby throwing four open-hearth furnaces out of blast. It was reported to-day that the Carnegies had reconsidered their action and notified the men to return to work, but the discharged said to-day that such was not the case.

That trouble is expected by the great firm is evidenced by this fact: Further protection has been built at the works during the past 48 hours and the large double fence at the Homestead works has been extended in order to protect the anti-strikers. Opposite Munhall station, the scene of the memorable fight of three years ago, received special attention. Port holes three inches in diameter have been bored in the heavy fence at intervals of 25 feet, completely commanding the vicinity of the station, giving that portion of the Gibraltar a threatening appearance. Large water pipes are being laid from the mill to different parts of the fence, and the workmen claim that either hot or cold water can be turned on any one on the outside at a moment's notice by those on the inside.

LAVA FROM A VOLCANO.

A Mexican Mountain in Active Operation and Causing Disastrous Shocks.

Guadalauara, Mex., June 28—The people of this city and surrounding country have been in a state of terror for the past two days on account of repeated shocks of earthquake, which have been the most serious ever felt here.

The first shock occurred on Friday night and lasted 18 seconds, the vibrations running from southwest to northeast.

The glass in windows was broken and plastering in many buildings was cracked. Hundreds of people took refuge in the streets.

At daylight Saturday morning, a second shock occurred, causing great disaster. No less than 100 buildings were completely wrecked.

Several persons were seriously injured but none killed. Since then several light shocks have been felt. The Colima volcano, south of here, is in active operation and is throwing out great volumes of sulphrous smoke and lava.

THE STREET CAR STRIKE

The Companies are Winning in Cleveland.

Part of the Lines Again in Operation—Strikers Heavily Sentenced by a Judge.

Cleveland, O., June 28.—At noon the indications were that the strike on the East Cleveland Street Railway company's lines was practically ended.

Cars were being run by the Euclid avenue road at intervals of ten or fifteen minutes, without molestation, and the strikers claimed that no violence would be offered by them or their sympathizers.

The officials of the East Cleveland company claimed that they would have enough new men within 12 hours to have their line in full and complete operation.

No attempts will be made to-day to run cars on the Broadway and Newburg line.

Yesterday the court issued a decree for men not to interfere with the running of the cars. Some of the men disregarded the court, were arrested, and given severe sentences, which had the effect of quieting the others.

MORE HONORS FOR JUDGE DICKMAN.

Columbus, O., June 28.—Brown University at Providence, R. I., has paid Ohio a high compliment by conferring the degree of LL. D. on Judge Franklin J. Dickman, of the supreme bench. Judge Dickman is not only an able jurist but a man of wide general education, and the honor thus conferred upon him is deserved.

COLUMBUS BRIEFS.

Columbus, June 28.—Adjutant General Pocock this morning commissioned Arthur K. Liebick, of Cleveland, first lieutenant and quartermaster of the Fifth regiment.

W. Z. McDonald, state inspector of workshops and factories, appointed John W. Path, of Lorain county, Third district, as assistant inspector.

GETTING IN LINE.

New York Democratic Clubs Ready for the Campaign.

New York, June 28.—The World's Albany special says: John Boyd Thacher, president of the state league of democratic clubs, is arranging a plan of campaign for clubs throughout the state.

In talking with the correspondent last night he paid a high compliment to Senator Hill as an organizer and said: "It shall be the task of the organization not only to aid the independent voter in the work of tariff reform, which he has so much at heart, but to convince him that within our party lines exist those principles and those truths which we received from the founders of our government, and which we have preserved in their rugged simplicity for a guide unto the people and a lamp unto their feet.

"This is to be another campaign of education," concluded Mr. Thayer. "There will be no more intrepid leader in this campaign than Senator Hill. He is loyal to the heart's core. He has made this a democratic state. I shall call the executive committee of our state league together this week for conference, and in due time will hold a convention to formally introduce the campaign work."

THE LAW MUST STAND

Corporations to Help Support the State.

Companies Must Pay for Their Franchises.

An Important Decision Made by the Ohio Supreme Court at Columbus.

Columbus, June 28.—(Special)—The supreme court this morning declared the law constitutional compelling the payment of one-tenth of one per cent. on every dollar of capital stock of any incorporation filed with the secretary of state.

The cases considered were Ashley et al vs Secretary Ryan, and the Pittsburg, Akron & Western railway vs Ryan.

In the first case it releases $52,000 that was tied up over the Wabash consolidation, and decides the question that although all the railways were not in the state they will have to comply with all state laws.

The decisions will place over $200,000 in the treasury at once, and the same amount annually.

Attorney General Richards says that it will surely lead to the taxing of all franchises held by corporations formed since the adoption of the present constitution, thereby giving cities an income that will greatly aid them in paying expenses of the city government.

CANADA COMES DOWN.

Ottawa, Ont., June 28.—It is understood that at Saturday's meeting of the Dominion cabinet the threatened retaliation by the United States government in the matter of canal tolls was discussed and a proposal forwarded to the United States government through the British minister at Washington, offering to concede much of President Harrison's claim.

TALKING OF FUSION,

Delegates to the Prohibition Convention

Have Unloaded a Little Surprise Party.

Many of the Cold Water Followers Want to Form a Coalition With the People's Party.

Cincinnati, June 28.—There were few outward and visible signs this morning that twenty-four hours hence a national convention, larger in its delegated membership than those that recently assembled at Minneapolis and Chicago, will open in this city for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for president and vice president in behalf of a party representing a large and influential percentage of the popular vote.

Something of a sensation was created this morning by the development that many of the latest arrivals among the delegate are secretly, and in some cases openly, in favor of seeking a coalition with the People's party, and of transferring the prohibition support to the ticket that will be nominated at the Omaha convention a few days hence.

The prohibition leaders who, to a man, are bitterly opposed to any co-mingling of force, have all along anticipated some such move, and they are devoting all their energies to-day in the work of heading off the spread of this sentiment.

Albert Dodge, of Michigan, a delegate of weight and influence, is the chief spokesman of the fusion element. And although it is claimed that the latter cannot muster more than 20 votes all told, it has already succeeded in creating enough stir and talk to overshadow for the moment the campaigning in behalf of the candidates for the presidential ticket.

The feeling on this subject was intensified by a report that Ex-Congressman Bidwell, of California, who is in the lead for the presidential nomination of the prohibitionists, would probably withdraw from the ticket if General John B. Weaver were nominated by the Omaha convention. But to this his supporters gave an emphatic denial.

The contest for the presidential nomination is still confined to Ex-Congressman Bidwell and W. Jennings Demorest, of New York, and the latter's forces will receive strong reinforcements when the eastern delegations get in this evening. The Indiana candidate, Eli F. Ritter, has got in out of the wet by announcing that he is absolutely not in the field.

Cincinnati, June 28.—A woman as candidate for vice president.

That may be the result of the national prohibition convention assembling in this city.

It has been decided that Helen M. Gouger, the noted temperance lecturer of Indiana, will be formally presented to the convention as candidate for vice president.

Tallie Morgan, of Pennsylvania, will make the nominating speech.

During the past two days the matter has been carefully considered, and under the circumstances growing out of the contest for first place on the ticket it is believed Mrs. Gouger will command considerable strength.

How the nomination will be received remains to be seen, and those who have the lady's canvass in hand are yet in doubt about it. If the convention takes kindly to her presentation a vigorous fight will be made to secure for her the nomination. If not, her name will be withdrawn.

There is also a strong feeling gradually growing for Sam Small for vice president. It is claimed that the attacks that have been made upon him have served to strengthen rather than weaken him with the people, and that his selection for second place would be an admirable one. His boom is growing and he will be a formidable candidate.

HOOSIER REPUBLICANS

They are Holding a Convention in Fort Wayne.

Governor Chase Traveling a Rocky Road.

Fort Wayne, Ind., June 28.—The republicans of this state will assemble here this afternoon for the purpose of putting a state ticket in the field to be voted on next November. Some two months ago the date of the gathering was changed from to-day to Thursday last, in order to accommodate the farmers in the southern part of the state, but subsequently the date was changed back again.

This, however, did not become generally known, and as a result quite a number of delegates and visitors put in an appearance last week, only to learn that the gathering would not assemble until to-day.

Gov. Chase seems to be the strongest candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, but he has numerous opponents, and it will be a free-for-all scramble for the entire ticket.

CALLED TO ORDER.

The Hall Packed so Full as to Interfere With Business.

Ft. Wayne, Ind., June 28.—The utter inadequacy of Princess skating rink to accommodate the convention was painfully demonstrated this morning.

The local committee did the best they could, but the hall was so overcrowded that it was impossible for the delegates to get seats or the convention to transact business.

When State Chairman Gowdy called the convention to order at 10:15 an effort was immediately made to adjourn until 12 o'clock and upon reassembling only to admit delegates and the press, but it was ruled out of order.

Prayer was offered by Rev. D. W. Moffatt, of the First Presbyterian church, Fort Wayne.

Committee on permanent organization reported C. W. Fairbanks, Indianapolis, for permanent chairman.

Mr. Fairbanks congratulated the convention on the bright prospects of the party. They met with the country prospering and happy, a sure harbinger of republican success, as hard times and discontent go along with democratic success.

Allusions to Harrison, Indiana's son, to protection and reciprocity, honest money and an honest ballot were warmly applauded.

He proceeded to discuss the platform, ridiculed the figure cut by the Indiana delegation to the Chicago convention, enlarged upon the protective tariff policy, a free ballot and a fair count, and the iniquities of disfranchisement by the gerrymander.

The rest of the speech was devoted to state issues, particularly the new tax law. At the conclusion of Fairbanks' speech, without reaching the platform report, a motion prevailed at 11:10 to adjourn to 1 p. m., when only delegates be admitted and the convention proceed.

The Fort Wayne people complain that the over-issue of tickets this morning was by the state committee and not the local management, and that the local committee is not to blame for the rush into the hall.

THE PLATFORM.

Indiana Republicans Find Fault With the Democrats.

Fort Wayne, Ind., June 28.—Following is synopsis of platform adopted at the republican state convention:

The platform opens by approving the Minneapolis platform and the renomination of President Harrison. It adds:

"The administration of the national government under his leadership has been marked by such wisdom and patriotism as to impress the whole country and give abundant assurance that its continuance will add lustre to the American name and increase the comfort of the American home."

The Minneapolis nominees are then indorsed; democratic incapacity, the Indiana gerrymander and the management of state affairs is condemned as incompetent, wasteful and in the interest of officeholders and party managers. Debt and democracy are declared to be synonymous terms; and democratic management of state affairs denounced as improvident, unless checked; it denounces the new and calculated to involve the state in hopeless debt and impair credit of state democratic tax law as imposing on the farmer, laborer and householder an unjust share of public burden, and demands its radical revision, and pledges the republican party to enact such a tax law as will relieve the farm and the home from the unjust taxation now imposed on them and place a just share on capital and corporate property.

The last legislature is charged with increasing fees and salaries of the state and court officers. The platform again denounces the congressional and legislative gerrymander.

The democratic party is denounced for making the benevolent institutions partisan, and non-partisan management demanded; revision of highway laws is demanded; the enactment of a railroad safety car coupler demanded; organization of labor is approved.

The generous pension laws of the republican congress are commended and provision for the care and maintenance of indigent soldiers and their families is indorsed. A tribute is paid to the memory of the late Gov. Alvin P. Hovey, and sympathy tendered to Mr. Blaine and his family in their affliction.

A DIKE IN DANGER.

Rock Island, Ill., June 28.—The entire lower part of the city is under water and the great dike in the west end is still in danger of breaking at any moment. The water is rising at the rate of half an inch an hour. This dike protects a large portion of the town from complete inundation.

THE BUFFALO BANK.

Brother-in-Law Armstrong Under Arrest.

A Postponement of Ten Days Granted in the Case of Treasurer Dann.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 28.—Charles J. Armstrong, teller of the National Savings bank, and brother-in-law of Treasurer Dann, has been arrested and locked up at police headquarters.

He is charged with misappropriating funds, and it is said strong evidence has been discovered of his complicity in Dann's frauds. McCredie, the ex-teller, for whom warrants are out, has not yet returned from his "pleasure trip," and is probably in Canada.

A postponement of ten days has been granted in the hearing of Dann's case before Judge King.

DIXON WON THE FIGHT

A Clever Contest at Coney Island.

The American Boy is Now a World's Champion.

Toledo Game Postponed on Account of the Small Attendance—General Sporting.

New York, June 28.—The great battle for the featherweight championship of the world is now a thing of the past, as George Dixon, the colored boy from Boston, has won that title by defeating Fred Johnson, the featherweight champion of England.

The contest was witnessed by a large and enthusiastic crowd of sporting men, from this city and various other parts of the country. Dixon is the acknowledged champion featherweight of America, and as this was an international battle, there was an immense amount of interest taken in the fight, and the betting was exceptionally heavy.

There was so much Dixon money in sight that the Johnson men who went down prepared to back their man at even money were soon compelled to drop down to $80 to $100, then to $70 to $100, and the takers were so numerous that another had to be taken and the odds fell to $100 to $60 on Dixon, with but few takers.

Coney island was crowded all the afternoon with prominent sporting men to get their money up on the man they could get the best lines upon. Both Dixon and Johnson were weighed under 117 pounds, and there was considerable surprise shown at the Englishman's ability to get down to that weight and still look strong and fit to fight. The later trains came down heavily loaded, and as it drew toward the time for the beginning the rush for seats became something astounding. The seats went $5 and $10 each, but that cut no figure with the bulk of sports, as they put up their money as though it had been blank paper. There were fully 6,000 people present.

The first bout which was a ten-round go, between Charles Kelly and Con Sullivan, both of this city. They hopped upon the stage at 8:40 p. m. The boys, who are of the 105 pound class, were evenly matched.

John L. Sullivan came in, in a most hilarious condition, and attracted no little attention. He was so much interested in the ten rattling rounds the boys put up in which knock-downs were conspicuous, that he did not see Jem Corbett come in and walk past him, despite the fact that the crowd cheered him heartily. Neither of the lads were knocked out, but Kelly was declared the winner on scientific points.

It was just 9:30 when Dixon came down the aisle and climbed upon the stage. He was accompanied by Tom O'Rourke, his manager, and Morris Kelly and Eddie Dalley. Fred Johnson was very slow about making his appearance in the ring, but when he did show he received a hearty welcome. He was accompanied by Charley Norton, Billy Plimmer, Ben Rowlands and Benny Murphy, his handlers. It was just 10 minutes after 10 when the men confronted each other.

First Round—The start was fast and furious. Dixon doing all the work, and landing right and left on the stomach and head, forcing Johnson to the ropes and punishing him terribly. A great shout went up, for all thought Johnson was going out in the first round, but he pluckily stuck to his work and took his medicine. The gong sounded time and this saved him. His seconds had him in shape in less than the minute and he came up strong.

Second Round—Dixon forced the fighting, which was fast and furious, and did the bulk of the leading. Johnson at one time seemed to be gone. His leads with his left were always short and he appeared unable to give any amount of severe punishment. Dixon continued to play for the body, repeatedly landing hard with his right. Johnson was laying back for infighting, in which he excelled, but George hit, stopped and got away too quickly for him. When the bell rang Johnson was very weary.

Third Round—Both men were strong and sparred for an opening. Johnson was the first to lead, but fell short of his mark, and Dixon came forward with a great rush, landing hard and often. Johnson gained strength, however, and again led. As before he fell short, but when George rushed he planted his right full in Dixon's face and in the clinch which followed punched him hard in the stomach. After the break away Dixon was more careful, finding that his opponent was a great infighter, and capable of getting away from punishment.

Fourth Round—Johnson came up very strong, which forced Dixon to be a little careful. They sparred a few seconds for an opening, when Dixon came with a rush and planted his left on Johnson's stomach, and with the same swing landed it on his jaw, while he followed it up with a right-hander on the neck. Johnson planted his right heavily on Dixon's ribs, and some hard infighting followed before the call of time.

Fifth Round—Johnson was full of fight, and he followed Dixon all over the ring looking for an opening. He led lightly with his left but got a stiff counter on the jaw for his pains. Dixon then rushed him and landed a good left, only to receive a blow twice as hard on the side of his head from Johnson's right. They came to close quarters a number of times during this round and clinched repeatedly. They had to be separated a number of times, and the round finished in favor of Dixon.

Sixth round—Both men came up strong. Johnson led with his left on Dixon's chest. Dixon on a rush swung his left on Johnson's stomach and again in the face. On the next rush he landed again the same way, but got a stinging clout on the side of his head with Johnson's right that made the smile disappear from his face. He tried to get square, rushed his man and fought like a tiger with both hands. Johnson held his own in pretty good form, and did not seem to mind his punishment in the least; but banged away with both hands like a gladiator.

Seventh round—Both were eager to get to work. Johnson's mild lead was followed by a swinging right which made his head go back quick. Dixon used both hands to advantage and landed many good blows and would doubtless have finished his man had it not been for the clever dodging of the English lad.

Eighth round—Dixon started to do his fighting with his left hand; but after receiving two or three swinging right-hand blows he came to his senses, and was forced to use his right hand for all it was worth. Both fought well all through the round. It was clever work all the way through.

Ninth round—Dixon was not over-anxious to get into close quarters, and spent as much of the round as possible in walking around and sparring. He only fought when he got a good opening or was forced to do so by his oppnent's attacks. Johnson used his right hand to advantage and landed several blows on Dixon's head with telling effect. If anything Johnson had a shade the better of the round.

Tenth round—Dixon held off until he got a good opening. Then he landed on his opponent with both hands, and fairly staggered the Englishman. The clever manner in which Johnson avoided punishment from Dixon's left caused the latter to change his tactics and commence playing for Johnson's wind with his right, which he landed successfully many times in the Briton's stomach.

Eleventh round—Johnson showed himself a good stiff puncher with his right hand, and no one was more keenly aware of that fact than Dixon, who avoided it as much as possible, and did not fall into the trap Johnson was setting for him with his short leads with his left. Johnson if anything had a trifle the best of the round.

Twelfth Round—Both fought well, and to the surprise of the spectators Johnson held up his end as well as Dixon. The Englishman could certainly stand an awful amount of punishment, and the blows of Dixon, which were severe, had but little effect upon him. He took his medicine in great shape and was perfectly contented with countering with his right every time Dixon came to him.

Thirteenth Round—There was but little real hard fighting done in this round, and as both men were cautious, and only led when they thought they had a good opening. Dixon got in some telling blows toward the close of the round. They had a telling effect on the Englishman, who was a trifle tired at the call of time.

Fourteenth and Last Round—Johnson was a trifle groggy when this round began, owing to the punishment he had received in the previous round, and the manner in which Dixon had followed up this advantage and planted his right and left, did not improve Johnson's condition in the least. They had scarcely been fighting two minutes when Dixon planted his left full on the point of Johnson's jaw, following it up with his right with such force that he fell on him as he went down. The fall is what finished Johnson, as the back of his head struck the floor with such force that he was knocked insensible. He made four or five efforts to rise, but the attempts were futile and Dixon was declared the winner.

President Williams admits the truth of all that has been charged in dispatches from various places, in that the Western league owes the National league $1,200 for protection under the National league. In case this money is not paid the National league could sign Western players without paying anything to the clubs for them. The Western should get a move on itself and square up its accounts.

CLARKSON TURNED DOWN

President Harrison Did Not Want Him,

Although the National Committee Did.

The Opening Wedge Has Been Inserted and the Republican Split Will Increase in Size.

Washington, June 28.—Chairman Clarkson not being acceptable to the president, the national committee yesterday selected W. J. Campbell, of Illinois, to lead the republican campaign this fall.

The afternoon session was called to order at 3 o'clock, and on motion of Mr. Payne, of Wisconsin, a committee of three was appointed to draft suitable resolutions expressive of the views of the committee on the retirement of Mr. Clarkson as chairman. Messrs. Payne of Wisconsin, Wolcott of Colorado, and Fassett of New York, were appointed by the secretary as such committee. Mr. Scott of West Virginia, sent to the chairman the following resolution, which was read and laid on the table to be taken up for action at some future meeting of the committee.

Resolved, That hereafter national republican conventions be composed of delegates from the several states apportioned upon the republican votes actually cast in the last preceding presidential election, 7,000 votes and fractions thereof greater than one-half to be the basis of representation for each delegate. The national committee shall certify to the chairman of each state committee the number of delegates to which each state is entitled under the rule, and shall regulate the apportionment and election of such delegates.

At the request of Chairman Clarkson Mr. James F. Burke of Pittsburg, the president of the College League of Republican clubs, addressed the meeting.

Mr. Payne of Wisconsin, placed in nomination as chairman of the republican national committee William J. Campbell of Illinois. Representatives of other states seconded the nomination as one eminently fit and proper, predicting under his leadership complete success for the republican party in November.

Mr. Campbell was elected by acclamation.

Representative Hansbrough of North Dakota, placed in nomination as vice chairman Mr. M. H. DeYoung of San Francisco. Mr. Rosewater of Omaha, on behalf of his state, seconded the nomination. The vote being taken Mr. DeYoung was declared elected unanimously.

Mr. Sewell, of New Jersey, placed in nomination Mr. Thomas Carter of Montana, as secretary of the committee. Mr. Fassett nominated Mr. G. A. Hobart of New Jersey, but subsequently withdrew the nomination. Mr. Carter was unanimously elected. Cornelius N. Bliss of New York, was unanimously elected treasurer, and F. L. Swords of Iowa, sergeant-at-arms of the national committee.

Mr. Fessenden, of Connecticut, offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

That in accordance with the rule adopted by the republican national convention, an executive committee, composed of members of this committee, or of others not members thereof, shall have the conduct and management of the campaign of 1892, and that the chairman of this committee, after conference with the candidates, shall select the members of such executive committee and its officers.

Resolved, Further, that the chairman, vice chairman, secretary and treasurer of this committee shall be ex-officio members of said executive committee.

A resolution of thanks to Gen. Clarkson was passed and that gentleman responded in a speech the greater part of which was taken up in a defense of Senator Quay and Mr. Dudley against the attacks made upon them for their conduct of the campaign of 1888.

A resolution of thanks was also passed to J. Sloat Fassett, and Mr. Fassett replied.

At 6 the committee adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman. President Burke, of the republican college league to-day appointed as an advisory board to the league for the coming year: Hon. J. S. Clarkson, Gen. Alger, of Michigan; Henry H. Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts; Senator Stanford, of California; Gov. McKinley, of Ohio; Judge Thurston, of Nebraska; Geo. M. Pullman, of Illinois; Hon. John M. Langston, of Virginia; Hon. B. P. Langdon, of Minnesota, and Hon. J. Sloat Fassett, of New York. The college league will open headquarters in New York city, July 1.

At a little after 7 o'clock the committee met at the Arlington, and went in a body to the white house to call upon the president. The committee was conducted to the blue room where they were joined by the president. Chairman Campbell introduced each member and explained that the committee had effected an organization and had called to pay their respects.

The president in a few words expressed his appreciation of the courtesy, and after shaking hands with all who were present the committe withdrew.

The election of Mr. Wm. J. Campbell, of Illinois, as chairman of the republican national committee was by acclamation and settled the contest in a manner satisfactory to the president, the committee, and republicans here generally.

Mr. Campbell repeatedly declined the honor sought to be conferred upon him, but the pressure brought to bear by the committee which waited upon him at the instance of President Harrison, and by his personal friends, was too great to withstand and at least he yielded a reluctant consent.

Mr. Campbell was born in Philadelphia, December 12, 1845. His parents moved to Illinois in 1851 and he has resided in Cook county, that state, since that time. He was educated in the public schools of Illinois, the Lake Forest academy and the university of Pennsylvania. He studied law with Hon. W. C. Goudy, of Chicago, and has been engaged in active practice there for many years. He was elected a state senator in 1878 for four years, and was re-elected in 1882 and declined a renomination for a third term. In 1881 he was chosen president of the Illinois state senate and was re-elected to the same office in 1883 and again in 1885. He was a delegate to the national republican convention of 1880, and voted for Blaine on every ballot. He was again a delegate in 1888.

At the session in the morning Mr. Fassett paid Mr. Clarkson a high tribute. He said:

"We are confronted at the outstart with the appalling spectacle of Wisconsin and Illinois in the list of doubtful states, and Iowa by no means certain; with religious differences rife in the northwest, and a threatened coalition of the democracy with the alliance.

"The democrats have nominated, to that end, the strongest man they could have placed in the field, especially so far as the 36 electoral votes of New York are concerned. It is now important that we should proceed to select a chairman according to our best judgment.

"We cannot afford, through personal preference, to turn our shoulders to one single iota of strength. We must win the support of all republicans. No distinction should be made on account of past differences.

"But you will all agree with me, that so far as condition of affairs is concerned, we are selected republicans here, representing six or seven million republican voters in the United States. We are in a desperate fight, but we are in it to win. And for that purpose we must have the support of our best leaders. We want them to the front.

"At our head we want no inexperienced man. We want a man in sympathy with the lines drawn down by the Minneapolis convention, and in touch with all the people of his party.

"We want a trained leader, a man to whom we can look with every confidence of success, and he whom I shall mention, has since 1876 been engaged in every contest that has been waged by the republican party.

He has always been a faithful, sagacious, devoted and efficient member of the national committee. I well recollect the hot months of 1888, when the nights were not long enough, nor the days long enough for that gentleman to do that which he desired for the republican national committee.

"All through that summer, with a devotion that was remarkable, he toiled while others were sleeping. To him, in conjunction with Senator Quay, is due in a higher measure than any other, the success attained in that glorious campaign. I refer to the honored temporary chairman of this committee, James S. Clarkson of Iowa.

He concluded by saying that no man could give the republicans so much hope of winning as Mr. Clarkson could.

As Mr. Fassett took his seat, Gen. Clarkson arose and said: "Gentlemen of the committee: I wish to say to you that you should have known before any further steps are taken in the direction of my election as chairman of this committee. While I appreciate deeply the friendship entertained and expressed for me by most of the gentlemen in your membership; and while I have already had the personal tender by 41 members of the committee of their support of me as chairman, and while 30 of them have expressed their intention to vote for me whether I should be a candidate or not, or whether my election was desired by the candidates of the party or not; and while I appreciate as the proudest honors of my life their expression of confidence and good will, it is still my duty to say to you that I have learned from the president that he desires some one else for chairman."

THE QUEEN'S SPEECH.

Parliament Has Been Prorogued.

Victoria Says Things are Swimming Along in the Proper Channel.

London, June 28.—To-day the queen prorogued parliament, the formal preliminary step to dissolution, which follows immediately, thus completely verifying the statement made in a dispatch to the United Press announcing exclusively the 28th of June as the date of this parliament's termination.

The queen, in her speech proroguing parliament, says:

"Our foreign relations are friendly. Treaties have been duly ratified which refer our differences with the United States respecting Bering sea to arbitration."

The speech refers to the ratification of the action of the Brussels conference for the suppression of the slave trade, though noting the French reservations respecting the maritime slave trade. The queen says that she had gladly assented to the bill which parliament has enacted and the speech lays particular emphasis upon the small holdings bill and the clergy discipline bill, to enable bishops to clear the church of clergymen guilty of immorality.

Her majesty adds: "In closing this parliament, which has been unusually laborious and fruitful of benefit legislation, I thank you for the assiduous performance of your momentous duties during the last six years and I heartily commend you to the favor of Almighty God."

According to the proclamation for dissolution the writs for general election must issue forthwith. Dissolution occurring to-day the program will be as follows: Writs received Wednesday, June 29. Nomination Saturday, July 2. Borough poll Monday, July 4 (earliest) Wednesday, July 6 (latest).

The limit of time for the county elections is very much wider. In these the nomination may take place any time up to the ninth day after the receipt of the writ, and the election may be postponed until six days after the nomination. As to the date of the assembling of the new parliament there is no absolute rule but there is also no precedent in the present century for an interval of more than nine weeks.

The secretary of the County Clerks' association of the state has issued notice for the annual meeting to be held at Put-in-Bay July 12. The county prosecuting attorneys and city solicitors of the state will meet at Put-in-Bay on the same day.

ELDER UPDIKE

Arrangements are about completed to have Evangelist J. V. Updike spend the month of July in this city. He has been very successful in all his meetings, which have extended from Ohio to California. The services will likely be held at the Eleventh Street Church of Christ.

GAS CERTIFICATES

The first suit in court attacking the validity of the certificates of indebtedness issued by the city will be aired in the supreme court.

Thomas Tracy, of the law firm of King & Tracy, informed a Bee to-day the case would be filed in supreme court at once.

This appeal is made on the ground that the circuit court erred in its decision when it declared the certificates invalid, and also that the recent act of the legislature was unnecessary.

ENDED FATALLY.

The Accident Which Occurred Yesterday Afternoon.

August Tuerstenan, the man who was injured in the runaway yesterday afternoon, died at St. Vincent's hospital last night. When the physicians made the examination it was not supposed that his injuries were of a serious nature. Mrs. Tuerstenan arrived early last evening and left again at a late hour supposing that her husband would soon recover. However, towards morning he grew suddenly worse and soon after passed away. He had been badly injured in the abdomen.

CANOE RACES.

At Grassy Point On the Glorious Fourth.

Last evening a special meeting of the Toledo Canoe club was held, with Commodore Butterfield in he chair. It was arranged to have a day's outing and canoe races at the Grassy Point club house July 4. The following members of the club have entered the lists: Fred Greiner, Gem; John Rosher, Clipper; Capt. Chas. Armstrong, Mira; Capt. Dawson, Dux; Capt. Islet, Mayflower; Captain Lectre, Sira; J. H. Hepburn, Ixl; George Fry, Entre Nous. The club will enjoy a moonlight excursion on the Pastime July 19.

BISHOP HOSTMAN

Will Be At the International Convention of the I. C. B. U.

Mr. J. J. Murphy, the committee of one appointed by the Y. M. C. B. A. to visit Bishop Horstman relative to securing the right reverend gentleman's presence at the annual international meeting of the Irish Catholic Benevolent union, to be held here in August, returned from Cleveland last evening.

He brings assurance that Bishop Horstman will attend, and an effort will be made to give him a reception at the Columbian club when he comes.

A meeting of the committee on arrangements will be held this evening, when preparations will be further completed.

TOLEDO MEDICAL COLLEGE.

Staff of Officials Elected After a Scrimmage.

The annual meeting of those interested in the Toledo Medical college was held at the old Northwestern building on Lagrange street yesterday afternoon, and it was rather acrimonious at times. The final outcome resulted in the choice of the following officers: President, D. R. Austin; vice-president, Walter Pickens; secretary, W. J. Gillette; treasurer, H. E. Haag; executive committee, H. E. Munn, John North and William V. Anderson; trustees to fill vacancies, A. F. Hipp and W. V. Anderson. Rules for the government of the body were approved, some routine business attended to, and a recess was taken until Friday afternoon.

THE ELECTRIC STATION.

Three weeks ago the Bee published the particulars of the project whereby the Toledo Electric Light company will erect here one of the largest electric light stations in the country.

Manager Moore, of the Thomson-Houston system, arrived in the city last evening, and to-day, in company with F. B. Dodge, is looking up a location. The special committee, it is understood, has secured options on two very desirable sites on the river front, and Mr. Moore will probably decide before leaving the city which is the most desirable. Both are on the river front and just the thing for such an institution.

GAS FOR MANUFACTURERS.

Old Consumers Using City Gas—No Meeting Last Evening.

Messrs. Green and Backus were the only members of the board of gas trustees present last evening, and there was consequently no meeting for lack of a quorum.

It transpired during an informal talk that five wells are already running and two others are being drilled within a radius of 500 yards of the well purchased by the board at its last meeting.

Manager Heston reports that a majority of the consumers who used gas last summer for power purposes have been reconnected this year and are now using.

Mr. Backus contends that this will fall in the field of the supply that should be held for private consumers next winter. The majority of the board, however, believes there will be plenty of gas next winter for all applicants.

SONS OF VETERANS

Annual Camp To Be Held in Chillicothe.

The local camps of the Sons of Veterans are busy making preparations to attend the tenth annual encampment of the Ohio division, which will occur at Chillicothe, beginning next Monday and lasting until the 9th. Reduced rates have been secured on all railroads, and the Sons are expected out in great force. The Chillicothe people, who have an enviable reputation for their free, open handed hospitality, are doing everything in their power to make the occasion a thoroughly pleasant one to the many strangers who will take part in it. Extensive arrangements have been made for camp fires, fireworks, competitive drills by bands and military companies, parades, military balls, etc. The week is sure to be a gala one. The Ohio Ladies' Aid society of the Sons meets during the same week, and it is believed that not less than 300 women will take part in it.

WITHOUT PREJUDICE.

Col. Voute's Case Against the Robison's Dismissed.

In common pleas court yesterday afternoon the case of Charles H. Voute against the Toledo Electric Street railway company was dismissed without prejudice, by the plaintiff.

This was an action to recover $15,000 damages for injury to character. It seems that the plaintiff had been indicted by the grand jury, charged with cutting down certain trolley wires owned by the defendants, and that the case was afterward nollied by the county prosecutor.

This morning another petition with the same allegations and causes was filed. The pleading in the first suit had all been filed and a jury struck to try the case.

THE ALDERMEN

Put Through a Lengthy Schedule of Business.

The session of the board of aldermen last evening was long and uninteresting. There was a large amount of business on the schedule, but it was mostly routine matters and small improvements. No discussions of consequence occurred.

Under the call for new business Mr. Hartford presented a resolution requiring the Consolidated Street Railway company to reconstruct its wires on the Cherry street bridge. This was adopted.

Mr. Hall introduced a resolution directing the city clerk to advertise for bids for paving the alley between Summit and St. Clair streets, from Monroe to Jefferson, which was referred to the committee.

A resolution from Mr. Wolfman to turnpike South street was referred to the committee.

Mr. Hartford presented a new resolution for the purchase of sites for new engine houses. This was the same as that previously vetoed by the mayor, except that it also included the purchase of lots 21 and 23, Stickney's addition, at the corner of Bush and Erie streets. It was adopted.

A large amount of business from committees and from the other board was passed, including an ordinance to regulate and compel the consumption of smoke; a resolution to condemn property for park purposes; and the ordinance to increase the price of hucksters' licenses.

The Amalgamated Building Trades council held a short meeting last night.

The Clerks' Mutual Protective union, No. 2151, will meet to-night at Elk's hall.

The cigarmakers held a meeting last night with the usual good attendance. Great interest is manifested by all the members in the Labor Home project. Extensive preparations for Labor Day are being made by this union.

THE COURT RULES

That the Consolidated May Reconstruct and the Work Proceeds.

Late yesterday afternoon Judge Harmon in common pleas court dissolved the injunction restraining the Consolidated Street Railway company from construct new tracks, as obtained by the Robisons some time ago.

The Robisons have been fighting individual reconstruction for fear that they would have to recondemn to operate after the new iron was laid.

The Consolidated on the other hand, desired to maintain its original ownership, and fought back to prevent the Robisons from claiming an ownership in the tracks.

Judge Harmon held that the Consolidated could go ahead and rebuild the tracks and own them, but that the Robisons' interest, by virtue of condemnation, would be maintained as long as the franchise was in life.

This settled the question quite satisfactorily to both sides and no exception was noted to the decision.

The Consolidated immediately after the order had been made, put a force of men at work tearing up the tracks and pushing the reconstruction, and to-day Summit street is in a decidedly chaotic state.

CHARLEY SELNER

Invited to Deliver an Address on Temperance.

Some few years since there was no more zealous laborer in the cause of temperance in this part of the state than Mr. Charles W. Selner, and there is a desire on the part of his numerous friends to again get him at work in the cause. With this in view, the following well-known citizens have united in the request printed below, and it is expected Mr. Selner will comply:

Charles W. Selner, Esq., Toledo, Ohio:

Dear Sir: No man in Ohio has more earnestly worked for the temperance cause than you. The splendid campaigns of the past in Northwestern Ohio and throughout the states of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, are still fresh in our minds. It was your eloquence and persistence by day and by night, that aided the achievement of a work in Lucas county as far back as twelve years ago. But the temperance cause needs more of your work. Your old-time followers and admirers would like to hear you again upon the subject of temperance that inspired such eloquent lecturers by you in the past; therefore, we, the undersigned representatives of your friends and well wishers, respectfully ask if you will in the near future, time and place suitable, consent to address the people of Toledo and vicinity upon the subject of temperance.

Hoping that you will duly consider this request and reply as early as convenient, we subscribe ourselves your friends,

BAD CAVE IN

Buries a Man Under a Pile of Earth

And He May Die from His Injuries—Bad Accident in a Sewer Excavation.

While three men were making a sewer excavation at the corner of North Fourteenth and John streets, this afternoon, the bank caved in and Lawrence Rohowiak, one of the laborers, caught. He was leaning over at the time and the earth covered him completely.

His companions at once started to dig him out, but it was fully a half hour before he was extricated from the pile of earth. He was very badly injured, though not killed, and was taken to his home on Nebraska avenue.

After the cave in occurred an effort was made to call the patrol and ambulance, but for some reason neither responded and the man was taken home in a wagon.

KILLED HIS BROTHER.

Clarksville, Tenn., June 28.—News from Oak Grove tells of a killing which occurred near there Saturday evening. Z. P. Dennes had "hands" cutting wheat, and among them were two brothers, Forest and Reuben Poole. After work they went to Mr. Dennes' for supper.

They were in the yard fooling with an old pistol. Reuben Poole had the weapon in his hand when it was discharged, the ball entering the fleshy part of his brother's leg, severing an artery, from which he died in a few minutes. No blame has been attached.

KNEW THE REASON FOR IT

And She Frankly Told it to the Newspaper Reporter.

More Ladies Would be Bright, Attractive and Happy If They Followed the Advice of Dr. Eleanor F. Newton—Her Charming Little Daughter.

I have often wondered in my journeyings about the city, both for information and business, writes a woman reporter in the New York Tribune, why it is I see so many ladies, otherwise beautiful, who have bad complexions, parched lips, sunken eyes and a general appearance of weariness. I presume many others have wondered at this, as I do, but perhaps all have not been so fortunate as I have been to have a conversation with an intelligent lady physician, who explained to me many things which I did not know before.

Dr. Eleanor F. Newton resides at No. 711 Lexington avenue. In addition to her intelligence she has an admirable frankness, as will be seen by the conversation which follows:

"I believe," said Mrs. Newton in answer to my question, "that the great cause of the troubles of ladies at the present day is nervousness. It is attributable to the rapid life New Yorkers live. One cannot but notice it among any elevated carload of passengers daily. Ladies who are nervous will not sleep well, cannot eat well. This gives them the haggard, worn appearance, which, if continued too long, will end in breaking down."

"And what can be done when such a state of things exists?" I inquired.

"I advise care and caution, and prescribe that which is best for their condition."

"If I follow you correctly, what curative agent do you regard as best?"

"I prescribe Paine's celery compound, as does my husband, in connection with other medicines."

"You regard it as valuable?"

"It is lovely, positively lovely, in its effects. It is a gentle alterative and a sedative of the first rank. Celery of itself is little less palatable than this remedy, and I regard the compounding of it as one of the happiest discoveries of this age."

"Is it used extensively?"

"Remarkably so; I have two patients now who are using it, and with the utmost satisfaction to themselves, to their friends and to me."

Mrs. Newton is not only a skilled physician, but the mother of a charming little daughter, who is a pupil in the Fifth Avenue Baptist church Sunday school, under the tutorship of John D. Rockefeller's daughter. She speaks in the highest terms of Mr. Rockefeller as a gentleman who does a wonderful amount of good with his wealth.

But it was plain to be seen that she regards the discovery of Paine's celery compound as having rendered a greater service to the world and the cause of humanity than was ever rendered by the most benevolent millionaire who ever lived.

And I think she is right.

DUBS KNOCKED OUT.

This Time, in the Evangelical Fight, Bishop Esher Is on Top.

Chicago, June 28.—The decision of Judge Shephard in the Schweiker-Husser famous Evangelical case was affirmed in the appellate court.

Similar suits are now pending between the two branches of the church in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Oregon, and various points in Illinois. The suits involve the controversy between the two rival general conferences of the denomination, one of which assembled last October at Philadelphia, and the other at Indianapolis, the former of which (known as the "Minority" or "Dubs party") has by this decision been declared illegal and unauthorized.

The result affects thousands of preachers of the Evangelical denominations, and determines the title to be over $5,000,000 worth of church property which was claimed by the respective adherents of the two conferences, in favor of the adherents of the Indianapolis body. The decision also determines that the conference of preachers held in April, 1800, at Chicago, from which Bishop Esher was excluded, is not a lawful conference, but that those members who recognized the bishop's right of admission, and who, in consequence of his exclusion, withdrew and held a separate meeting under the bishop's presidency, instituted the only lawful Illinois conference, and its decrees and appointments must be enforced as such.

Bolstering a Bad Cause.

Senator Hale, of Maine, has prepared a poultice for the high taxers. A resolution to suit a republican senate is to be sent to the republican secetary of the treasury asking for republican figures to show that workingmen are more prosperous under a protective tariff than in a period of tariff for revenue only.

Fortunately in the discussion of the tax question there are thousands of level headed citizens who lived in the low tariff years of democratic rule, who will be able to personally refute the juggling with figures which the administration proposes. It will be found if the resoluters go back far enough, that in the period between 1846 and 1860, the men who were considered independent and "the salt of the earth" were the owners of farms—farms located in thrifty, old-settled sections or on the half-cleared frontier. The reward of farm industry was a sure competence. The middle-aged and the older generations of those days rested when the shadows lengthened beneath their own vine and fig trees. The yeomanry of the land was the strength of the republic, financially and in everything that made up sterling American manhood. There were few mortgages on land in those days, and none upon farms that a few harvests would not liquidate. The history of the republic in that period is the story of low tariff democratic administration, and so thoroughly satisfied was the country with the conditions then existing that the tariff plank of the national democratic convention of 1856 declard that the time had arrived for progressive free trade with the whole world.

Since 1862 we have had a high tariff, a tariff for so-called protection, a tariff which has put one-half of all the wealth of this country in the possession of 17,000 persons out of 60,000,000 inhabitants. Whatever exists in the conditions of the farms, save and except the fickleness of the seasons, is attributable to the legislation of the republican party. If these conditions were favorable, there would be no complaint, no industrial trouble, no formation of new parties to protest against old methods. There would be no Farmers' Alliance to organize for better government, better methods and better conditions. The very agitation of new politics is a flat contradiction of all the figures and boastings and bolstering that the republican administration may formulate and promulgate through the republican senate to the politicians of the country. Conditions are all wrong, else there would be no need of juggling with figures. The taxes keep up. The mortgages increase. The millionaires increase and the paupers increase—all under the absolute rule of the republican party.

Cut and Dried Cruelty.

The national republican committee met in Washington on Monday to elect a chairman. The occasion was taken advantage of by the Blaine following to hit the President a hard blow in a tender spot. J. Sloat Fassett nominated Hon. J. S. Clarkson for chairman in a speech laudatory of the ex-chairman's great campaign ability. He spoke of his untiring work since 1876, and how faithfully he had labored for Harrison's election in 1888. The speech was evidently prepared for a cutting purpose. Harrison was belittled by the eulogy of Clarkson. The states of Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa are in doubt, said Fassett, and Mr. Cleveland is the most likely of any democrat to receive the thirty-six electoral votes of New York. Mr. Fassett continued at some length in this cruel manner, and sarcastically alluded to the unity and harmony of the republican party since the Minneapolis convention. The committee applauded his eulogy of Clarkson and would have elected the able chairman, if that gentleman had consented. Evidently the two Blaine leaders understood each other. Clarkson feelingly replied to Fassett's eulogy by saying that forty-one members of the committee had personally assured him of their support, and thereby had expressed the determination to vote for him under any circumstances. As complimentary as was the assurance of confidence, Mr. Clarkson informed the committee that he could not accept because President Harrison had told him he did not want him to serve as chairman. This statement of internal party discord was not kept a committee secret, but the story was at once put on the wires by the Blaine contingent, and the exposure of Harrison's course toward Clarkson shows how deep-seated is the row which was not quelled at Minneapolis. The work of Folgerizing Harrison is well under way, and every day adds fuel to the fire that is consuming Harrison's chances for re-election.

Educated Mud Slinging

The "campaign of education," as one class of republican organs understands it, is begun. The Chicago Inter-Ocean publishes an interview with ex-Gov. Hamilton, of Illinois. Mr. Hamilton remembers back when he was a boy of 15, and can tell things to show that Mr. Stevenson was a copperhead. He was a leading Knight of the Golden Circle, "so it was said." He "understands that it is claimed by some," etc. There is a secluded place where the drilling of the knights took place, "so it is claimed." This is the way the Inter-Ocean and its penny whistle echoes walk up to the study and discussion of the tariff question, the force bill and the shameless methods by which President Harrison won his election and the bolder and more disgraceful exhibition he is making of himself and his helpers at the opening of another campaign. Happily the leading journals of the country avow their determination to make a campaign of principle on live and present issues. The seedy old concerns that go back, before the war for material will not be "in it" at all.

The President in the Saddle.

It is announced in Washington republican circles that in addition to the regular republican campaign committee, an advisory committee is to be organized. This is a new fangled appendix to campaigning which seems to be necessary owing to the lukewarmness of several leaders whom the president will hardly trust with important work. The president, Secretary Foster and Secretary Elkins will be members of this advisory board. This is a feature of politics which is novel and somewhat extraordinary in character. When the president of the United States is called upon to do the scrambling which is usually allotted to big and little politicians, his chances for re-election must appear slim even to himself. But while pursuing the phantom of office what will become of the rest of the world? Without a secretary of state, and with the secretaries of war and treasury, and the boss of all, President Harrison himself, in politics up to their necks, even little Chile might spunk up and scare Uncle Sam out of his boots.

A bulletin lately issued by the census bureau shows that the assessed valuation of all property in the United States, except railroad property, has increased from $16,902,993,543 in 1880, to $24,651,558, 565 in 1890, the increase during the decade being $7,748,591,922, or 45.84 per cent. Should the same relation be found to exist between the actual valuation in 1890 and the valuation as it existed in 1880, the absolute wealth of the United States may be estimated at $64,648,000,000, or more than $1,000 per capita, as against $514 in 1860, $780 in 1870, $870 in 1880.—Ex.

This is taken as evidence of the country's prosperity. So it is, of the country's capability of production, but the distribution of this vast increase is quite another thing. There are more paupers, more strikes for living wages, more labor discontent, more mortgages on homes, in proportion to population, than has ever before been made record of in this country. What is wrong in conditions and who is responsible?

This is to be a campaign of comparisons. A reader of the Bee at Three Rivers, sends the following for a starter: "The administration of Harrison costs the country over one million dollars a day, or 36 per cent. more than the administration of Cleveland. It cost $97,842,502 more to run the government during Harrison's second year than it did during Cleveland's second year, an increase of $1.50 for every man, woman and child in the United States. (See report of the secretary of the treasury, 1891, page 845.)

"The net ordinary expenses of running the government were:

In the year 1887.....$267,932,179
In the year 1891.....$365,774,681

"Cleveland less than Harrison, $97,842,502.

"Cleveland's first two years less than Harrison's first two years, $173,400,074."

The stupidly funny and innocent New York Mail and Express has received a census bulletin which enlightens it concerning the magnitude and importance of the great lakes' fisheries. It says:

The great lakes are sources of wealth to the nation not altogether comprehended by us of the Atlantic coast. Some attention has recently been attracted to them by the growth of commerce and shipbuilding on them; and a recent census bulletin shows the extent of the fisheries there.

"Recently," and "us of the Atlantic coast," are very excellent specimens. Anybody would think the military, scriptural editor was born yesterday. He certainly needs to be born again and with a wider vision and a better furnished top-story.

McKinley and the custom houses do not agree. Mac says the foreigners pay the tariff tax. The customs figures place the burden upon the importers, who in turn make the retailers and the final consumer dance a lively tax hornpipe.

The independent papers in New York are all for Cleveland and the democratic papers are in the fight to win. With this powerful support Cleveland and Whitney ought to be able to pull New York out of all calculations of doubt.

Indiana democrats are holding ratification meetings and getting in line for an old-time Hoosier majority. About 20,000 for Cleveland are the figures now.

Now it is reported that Gresham will not accept the alliance nomination for president. Mr. Harrison may well wish he will not accept.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Mr. Stevenson is a man of character, ability, popularity, unconditional and uninterrupted democracy, aggressive partisanship and of marked power to organize and impress the strength of the party.—Brooklyn Eagle (Ind. Dem.)

What a year this has been for Ohio! McKinley presided at the Minneapolis convention, Brice called the Chicago one to order, and the next president and vice president of the United States are natives of Ohio.—New York Recorder.

If Judge Gresham takes the third party nomination, Kansas, Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Nebraska can be relied on to give the third party a start on the road to permanence. And with such a start it will become the second party after this year as the republican party will become the third.—St. Louis Republic (Dem.)

Personally Grover Cleveland would doubtless have preferred another "straddle" tariff plank, like that which, with characteristic hypocrisy, he sought four years ago to foist upon the St. Louis convention. But Henry Watterson and the radical free traders of his party got ahead of him. It is whispered in inmost democratic circles that Watterson, seeing that he could not deprive Cleveland of the nomination, took this insidious method of insuring his defeat at the polls.—Boston Journal (Rep.)

The logic of the democratic situation has been with Mr. Cleveland from the first, and the North American has always held that his nomination would be good politics. Mr. Cleveland is out and out the strongest man the democrats could nominate. His selection is good politics, because he has a fighting chance, whereas no man named in opposition stood any chance whatever, supposing what we believe to be true, that the republicans are united for President Harrison. Mr. Cleveland is clearly the strongest man the democrats have in their party.—Philadelphia North American (Rep.)

The question in New York seems to be whether Hill and Tammany can and will knife Cleveland more thoroughly than Platt can and will knife Harrison. Of the willingness to do this on either side there is not much room to doubt. The defeated bosses on both sides are vindictive, and their political future, if their parties succeed without them, will be a nullity. It is likely, therefore, to prove an important question as to their respective ability to take votes away from the respective tickets. Tammany has a larger trained following thoroughly dependent on it than has Platt. For that reason we regard the element of discontent in New York as more dangerous to Cleveland than to Harrison.—Pittsburg Dispatch (Rep.)

The nomination of Mr. Cleveland is the most encouraging political event which has occurred in this country since the war. In many respects it resembles the second nomination of Lincoln, for, like that, it has been compelled by the people in spite of the combined opposition of the professional politicians. Every patriotic American, no matter what his political affiliations may be, has reason to rejoice over it, for it is at once a triumph for our methods of selecting presidential candidates, and an immediate and, we trust, permanent uplifting of the level of our political discussion. It gives assurance that the campaign before us will be one of the most creditable ever conducted in this country.—New York Evening Post (Ind.)

They will return to Toledo Thursday afternoon. The railroad men and their families are the guests of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad and the object of the trip is to give them a good time and show them what kind of a town Toledo is and what sort of surroundings it has in the way of pleasure resorts.

Toledo Railway Clerks.

One of the most popular organizations in the city is the Toledo Railway Clerks' association. Last evening the annual meeting was held and the following officers were elected: President, R. G. Fitzgerald; ex-president, Geo. W. Lipscombe; vice-president, J. C. Mullen; speaker, R. M. Conlisk; secretary, E. W. Rogers; collector, W. A. Kreiter; treasurer, A. W. Sheahen; usher, Frank White; doorkeeper, John Hanlon; trustees, W. A. Todd, George W. Lipscombe, Robert Parke; finance committee, R. M. Conlisk, R. G. Fitzgerald, Robt. Thomas. R. S. Fitzgerald and W. A. Todd were elected delegates to the Philadelphia convention to be held in September next, Charles Fox and Robert Parke alternates. The association will address circulars to all kindred organizations in the country urging various reforms which it is hoped will be favorably considered at the next convention.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased an all-wise Providence to remove from our midst our beloved friend and brother, Peter C. Eseman; and,

Whereas, His early death brings grief and sadness to the members of our association, it is but fitting that we pay a last tribute to the memory of the departed, by thus expressing our regret at the loss of a true and honored member. We mourn his loss the more, when we reflect how his young life was so abruptly ended. By nature, bright, affable and kind, he had won many friends in the railroad world, as well as in social circles, all of whom regret with true sorrow that he has gone from their midst forever.

Resolved, That the Toledo Association of Railroad Clerks extends its most earnest sympathy to the bereaved wife and family, his parents, his brothers and sisters, in this, their hour of great sorrow. In him they lose a loving husband and father, a dutiful son and a kind brother.

Resolved, That as a token of respect, we honor the memory of the deceased by draping our charter with the emblem of mourning for thirty days; and be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the association, and that an engrossed copy thereof be presented to the bereaved wife and family.

A Needed Change.

It is desired by a great many traveling men that trains 13 and 14 on the C., H. & D. running between Toledo and Findlay be changed to run from Lima to Toledo instead, and the traffic from Findlay connect at Deshler by a plug. This would give the people at Lima and towns between there and Deshler an opportunity to make connections at Toledo, a pleasure they do not at present enjoy.

Supplies Purchased.

The Ohio Central company has ordered supplies, etc., for the construction of the K. & M., 37 miles up the river, from Charleston to the Ganley river, where it will connect with the Chesapeake & Ohio. The extension will be completed by November 1. It runs through a mountainous country, rich in coal and timber.

Cinders Here and There.

President S. R. Callaway, of the Clover Leaf, is in New York.

Four new coaches were ordered for the Toledo & Ohio Central railroad to-day.

The T. & O. C. will make excursion rates to the Toledo Exposition races July 12 to 15.

General Manager J. M. Ferris, of the Ohio Central lines has returned from Cleveland.

Traveling Passenger Agent J. T. Gamble, of the Ohio Central lines, is down the road to-day.

M. L. Crowl, assistant treasurer of the Clover Leaf, went to New York on business this morning.

Mack Kerr, of Upper Sandusky, has accepted a position in the Toledo & Ohio Central car accountant's office in this city.

The traveling auditors swooped down on the Union ticket office this morning and checked Mr. Wm. Gates up in great shape.

C. C. Corwin has entered the employ of the Toledo & Ohio Central railroad company as stenographer in the superintendent's office.

SOLID COMFORT.

Sanfleet's Yacht Launched This Afternoon.

She Takes a Party on Her Maiden Trip to Her Summer Quarters at Lang's Bend.

"Comfort" is the name of J. V. Sanfleet's new yacht which was launched this afternoon at the foot of Adams street. She has been appropriately named, for a more comfortable boat has never wet her keel in Maumee water.

The boat measures 17 1-2 feet over all, 4 1-2 foot beam, and 18 two feet above water. She will carry 15 people conveniently.

She was built for Mr. Sanfleet, and this afternoon goes on her maiden trip to Lang's bend with a party of young people.

Mr. Sanfleet has had built for her at the Bend a handsome boat house, and she will remain there during the summer. She was especially built for fishing, and she is solid comfort from stem to stern.

An unique umbrella has been secured as a shade. It is a huge affair and can be manipulated so as to catch the sun from whatever direction he comes.

Her furnishings are complete, and if the weather remains fair an enjoyable trip down the bay and up Ottawa river to the Bend is anticipated.

UNDER ARREST.

G. M. Breidner Charged With Embezzling $34,000.

Baltimore, June 28.—George M. Breidner was arrested last evening charged with embezzling about $34,000 from the firm of Witz, Biedler & Co., dry goods merchants. He will have a hearing to-day. Breidner was head bookkeeper for the firm when his accounts showed the shortage. This was two years ago. He was dismissed from the firm, but no criminal proceedings were instituted against him. Breidner left the city and his whereabouts have been unknown until he appeared yesterday.

JOSEPH W. BILLINGSLEA

The Prize Winner in the Oratorical Contest.

Pupils of St. Francis de Sales Parochial Schools Entertained a Vast Audience With Oratory and Song.

The opera house was packed last night with the friends and patrons of St. Francis de Sales parochial schools, to witness the exercises attending the annual commencement. In addition to the regular program, there was an oratorical contest for a gold medal, presented by the councilmen of St. Francis de Sales parish. Much interest was manifested in the contest, as the competitors exhibited wonderful elocutionary ability considering their years, and the delighted audience accorded equally hearty applause to each youthful orator.

The music was arranged by Prof. Mathias, and rendered by a number of the members of his famous orchestra. The overture from Rossini by the orchestra opened the entertainment, and was enthusiastically applauded, as was every number which followed. The opening chorus by the boys and girls, which was their "Greeting," was given as only children can give such a greeting. "The Constitution," an oration by Robert P. Byrne, followed, and was delivered in a clear, ringing voice that could be distinctly heard in every part of the house. A chorus, "Sweetly the Robins," by the girls' class, came next, and birds could not sing sweeter. "The Bell of St. Mungret," by Joseph W. Billingslea, was the next number. He surprised the audience with his elocutionary work; he possesses oratorical power very wonderful in one so young. He was the successful contestant, receiving the gold medal for the best oration. The boys' class sang Chiming Bells, and sang it well, and the girls recited "King Robert of Sicily," in a pleasing manner. Master Clarence Henry made a hit in his song, "Cruelty to Animals," and received a double encore. "Dreaming of Home and Mother," was sweetly sung by the girls, and then the boys gave an exercise with Indian clubs that elicited loud applause. Master Leo J. Whitham rendered a violin solo very acceptably, and John A. Wright, dressed in a sailor costume, sang a solo, "Wrecked and Saved," in a clear, melodious voice. "Spartacus to the Gladiators," was one of the best numbers, by Joseph W. Sweeney. La Fanchon, Jaeman, by the orchestra, was warmly cheered; a trio of boys sang "Distant Chimes;" Miss Catharine Gorman read a charming selection; a trio, Sweet Dreams of Childhood, was beautifully rendered by the Misses McGrath, Sullivan and Cooney; concert recitation by the boys, "The Battle," was given effectively, as was a recitation by Miss Johanna Burns. American Airs, by the boys' class, was sung, after which came a splendid oration by John A. Wright, "Death Bed of Benedict Arnold." G. Sullivan sang "God Bless our Boy at Sea," and the last and best performance was the selection from Henry IV, with the following corps of performers:

King Henry IV.....Robert P. Byrne
Hotspur.....Joseph W. Billingslea
Worcester.....Daniel K. Sewards
Northumberland.....Joseph W. Sweeney
Sir Walter Blunt.....Joseph Whitwham
Archibald.....John A. Kingsley
Attendants of King Henry IV.....
James Mitchell and John J. Desmond

The following eight young ladies gave the national airs:

Ireland.....Miss Annie Ryan
England.....Miss Alice Cahill
Scotland.....Miss Matilda Cooney
Germany.....Miss Sara Thompson
Africa.....Miss Mary Welsh
France.....Miss Hattie Cooney
Italy.....Miss Genevieve Sullivan
America.....Miss Nettie Henry

The distribution of premiums and gold and silver medals followed the performance, and after a congratulatory address by Rev. Dr. Quigley, a delightfully memorable night was closed with a selection from the orchestra.

ANOTHER BAD ACCIDENT

Caused by Collision With an Electric Car.

A Couple Thrown Out of a Wagon and Seriously Injured, Though Probably Not Fatal.

About 10 o'clock this morning an exciting accident occurred on Washington street, near Twelfth. Phil Cooper and his daughter, Mrs. Ida Kembell, who reside near Sylvania, were driving along the south side of Washington street in a large farmer's wagon. Reaching Twelfth street they turned to cross the electric car tracks to get on the other side of the street where they were going to stop.

Just as their wagon was over the track they were struck full force by an electric car. The motor man tried to put on brakes, but the car was coming down hill and wouldn't slow up. The collision brought the car to a stand-still. The horses attached to the wagon took fright and started down Washington street at mad gallop. They zigzagged from side to side and finally brought up against the curb near Eleventh street with such force as to throw the occupants out on the pavement.

Both were badly injured. Mr. Cooper was taken into the saloon at the corner of Twelfth street, where he was attended by Dr. Haag. His head was badly cut and both legs were badly injured. Mrs. Kembell was considerably bruised, and one of her ankles was cut to the bone.

ALONG THE GREAT LAKES

The Blockade at Chicago Has Been Lifted.

Vessels Again Getting to the Elevators.

Movements of Craft Up and Down the Great Rivers and Straits—General Mention.

Chicago, June 28.—(Special)—So far as the harbor is concerned the flood had largely subsided yesterday, and a stiff northerly wind raised the water at this end of the lake and had the effect of reducing the velocity of the out current. Navigation was not nearly so perilous in the south branch, and the tugs resumed operations at an early hour in the morning. Numerous arriving craft, mostly steamers of the lumber fleet, were towed to their wharves in the south branch and various grain loaded craft and others were moved down out of that branch and took their departure.

Sent to the Bottom.

Alpena, Mich., June 28.—The propeller Pringle, of Buffalo, collided with the schooner Fred A. Morse, of Cleveland, 12 miles southeast of Thunder Bay island, at 1:30 yesterday morning. The Morse was cut down below the water line and sunk in 200 feet of water in less than fifteen minutes. The crew saved themselves by taking to the boat and were afterwards picked up by the Tuttle.

One woman aboard the Morse was badly injured. The Morse was bound down the lake with iron ore, and was in tow of the propeller Horace H. Tuttle, which also had two other schooners. The Tuttle proceeded on her way.

The Pringle was bound from Buffalo to Chicago with a cargo of coal and Italian marble. She had in tow the schooners Harrison, Sweetheart and Sunshine. The Pringle is badly damaged, her deck planks forward split and spread, her bulwarks torn away for a considerable distance, and she lost both anchors and foremast.

She is damaged several thousand dollars. She cast her tow adrift. It is not known what became of them, but they probably can take care of themselves. The Pringle started to go to Sand Beach, but the seas washed in through the hole in her bow, so she set about and made this port at 3:30 yesterday afternoon. At the time of collision the mate was in charge.

Capt. Bonnan was in his bunk. Running out on deck he was knocked overboard by falling spars. His left hand was injured, but he managed to keep afloat for an hour, when he was picked up by a boat from the Tuttle and remained on board of her until daylight, when he was transferred on board of his own boat. He was almost dead when picked up and wishes to thank the officers of the Tuttle for their kindness. It was raining at the time of the collision and there was some fog, but further than this the mate will make no statement of the cause of the collision.

THE READING COMBINE.

The Buffalo Case Referred to an Arbitrator.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 28.—The case of the Lehigh Valley railroad v. Frank Perry, being the proceedings instituted by the railroad company to condemn the farm of defendant near Batavia for the purpose of obtaining right of way for a branch line, came up in supreme court here yesterday and was referred to Hon. Charles Daniels to hear, try and determine.

The defense oppose the proceedings on the ground that the Lehigh has no separate corporate existence. It is in a measure a test case of the validity of the Reading combine.

ENGLISH ESTATE AGENCIES.

Swindlers Still Doing a Land Office Business.

London, June 28.—In spite of the repeated exposures of the systematic swindles that are being carried on under the guise of English estate agencies and the frequent warnings that have been sent out by the United States legation here, the legation continues to be inundated with letters inquiring after imaginary fortunes.

From letters lately received it would appear that William Lord Moore, who has been shown up several times lately, is doing a laregr business than ever and that the victims of the estate agency craze are distributed all over the United States, but especially in the most remote districts.

Mr. Lincoln has conferred with the postoffic authorities; but there is no way to stop the trade except by criminal prosecution. In view of the distance of Moore's dupes, and the comparatively small individual losses, such a course is practically out of the question and it is only by the help of the American press that the frauds can be stopped. Mr. Lincoln to-day authorized the following notice to be issued:

"In consequence of the continued coming of many American letters to the United States minister in regard to sending money to William Lord Moore, of London, as an agent for prosecuting claims to property in England, it is requested that wide publicity be again given to the fact that in February last the United States legation, with the aid of the metropolitan police, made an investigation and ascertained that Moore is a swindler with a New York connection styled the European Claims Agency, E. Ross manager. Credulent people will avoid disappointment and save their money by having nothing whatever to do with this Moore or any other person advertising as agents having lists of unclaimed estates and family names of persons entitled and producing the publication, as often happens, of sensational telegrams as to English estates or money in the Bank of England awaiting American claimants. Such publications are all fraudulent and intended to induce the sending of fees or extended expenses."

IS NOT A CANDIDATE.

Judge Gresham Declines to be the Standard-Bearer of the People's Party.

Fresh Lick Springs, Ind., June 28.—Judge Walter Q. Gresham will not be the standard-bearer of the people's party. He conversed freely with a correspondent on the subject of a third party nomination. "I have not permitted and shall not permit the use of my name at the Omaha convention," said he. "I have no right to assume that the honor will be tendered me, but I will say my name will not go before the convention with my consent." "Have you told any of the leaders of the people's party that you would accept if nominated?" he was asked. "I have not." Regarding the people's party platform the judge said he believed in a large portion of it, but not in the sub-treasury scheme.

Rice used a pocket-knife and Turner an iron harrow tooth. Both men were badly used up, and it is reported here this morning that Turner is dead, and that there is no chance for Rice's recovery, as he was stabbed in the hallow of the breast several times with the harrow tooth. Both men are highly respected.

NATHANIEL.

He was the goodliest youngster that ever went to school,
He never fought his fellows and never broke a rule.
He was so very godly that his teachers used to say,
"That boy will be a preacher of the gospel some fine day."
But we didn't, somehow, like him and we never got along,
He was always in the right of it, we always in the wrong.
But still he forged ahead of us for all we'd say or think,
He never used tobacco and he never tasted drink.
And as for girls, my goodness, he would really run away.
If any had the hardihood to join us in our play.
And so he grew to manhood, his mother's pride and joy,
The quintessence concentrated of a sublimated boy;
And fortune seemed to favor him, he had himself to thank,
When he got a situation in the Farmers' County bank.
And then to cap the climax, he was hardly there a year,
Until he was promoted to the office of cashier.

* * * * *

There's woe to-day in Gulltown, the bird has flew the coop.
And several hundred farmers are sorely in the soup.
A widow mourns her money, and a preacher mourns his wife,
You never saw such doings in all your beloved life.
For Nathaniel, good Nathaniel, who never smoked or drank
Has the preacher's household and eke the Farmers' bank.

HOW THE WIDOW WAS WON

Undertaker Samuel Pavey and Mrs. Sarah Milliken, who has been known here for 25 years as Achilles or Kill Milliken's widow, were married recently in the presence of everybody in this village except old Miss Beckett, says the Aristotle, Ind., correspondent of the New York Sun. Miss Beckett would have been present if she had not left her sick bed last week to call on Mrs. Milliken and inquire into the particulars of the engagement. After this imprudence she had a relapse and has been unable to leave her bed. She was propped up at the window all the afternoon, however, and saw everybody that went in or out of the church.

Undertaker Pavey has buried all of the dead here for the last 60 years. He is now a tall, thin man, with close cropped white hair and smooth shaven face and always dresses in black, as becomes an undertaker. Only the oldest citizens can remember when he looked any different from the way he looks now. His wife died 40 years ago and he has kept shy of all maidens and widows ever since. Years ago he was abandoned by the most persistent match makers as a hopeless case.

The widow of Kill Milliken is an estimable lady, a great maker of cakes for the church festivals and clever at crocheting worsted tidies, with a large number of which the chairs and the sofa in her front parlor are adorned. As there has been a good deal of curiosity about her engagement and marriage, she has consented to a public statement. She is a short, fat woman with hair of a peculiar shade of yellow, which she got by using the hair dye which was advertised extensively in connection with her picture and letter of recommendation. She says that Mr. Pavey had never shown any signs of preference for her whatever, nor had she thought of him as the successor of Kill till 10 days before the marriage.

About that time he knocked at her front door at 11:30 o'clock in the morning. It was a Wednesday and the Widow Milliken was deep in the dough, as that is baking day through the whole town. She looked out through the blinds of the window next the front door and saw who it was. As she had known Mr. Pavey so many years she just wiped the flour off her hands upon her apron and opened the door.

Mr. Pavey went into the parlor and sat down in the cane-seated rocker with the green worsted tidy with the blue ribbons through it. He set his tall hat carefully on the floor beside him and said:

"Good morning, Sarah Milliken."

"Good morning, Mr. Pavey," said Mrs. Milliken. She said that she accented the Mr. so that Mr. Pavey might understand that she had noticed his not calling her Mrs. Milliken, as he was accustomed to do. Mrs. Milliken also says that she had a sort of premonition that something was coming.

"It can't be that the Gompers girl is dead?" she said anxiously.

"No," said Mr. Pavey. "But life is uncertain, Sarah Milliken."

"No one should know that better than you, Samuel Pavey," said the widow, with one of her shy laughs.

But Mr. Pavey did not laugh as he went on.

"Sarah, you are getting along in years. You will soon be in need of my services."

"I haven't even sent for the doctor yet, and I won't need you till he's done with me," said the widow, bridling and pouting.

"Do you remember the first Mrs. Pavey?" said the undertaker, paying no attention to her and pursuing his own gloomy reflections.

"I was a little girl when she died," said Mrs. Milliken.

"Yes," said Mr. Pavey; "you had just married the late Mr. Milliken five years before. You remember that she had the best funeral this town ever saw, not excepting old Capt. Lander's funeral, which cost $5, as I should know if anybody. If you marry me I will do as well by the second Mrs. Pavey as I did by the first."

"You always would have your joke, Sam," said the widow. "What will everybody say?"

"We are both getting old," said Mr. Pavey, still paying no attention to what the widow was saying. "Life is uncertain. There is no time to lose."

So Mrs. Milliken said: "All right, Samuel; whenever you say."

"Ten days is long enough. I'll see the pastor this afternoon."

Then they shook hands and Mr. Pavey put on his hat and went away, looking quite gay and chipper as soon as the door closed on him, for he did not know that Mrs. Milliken was watching through the blinds. Two minutes afterward she had called Mrs. Meek, her next door neighbor, to the back fence and had told her all about it. Ten minutes afterward by the clock on the court house Mrs. Meek, having left her bakery in charge of her daughter Lizzie, had on her bonnet and shawl and was bearing down the street telling everybody she met.

BUY CHICAGO REAL ESTATE.

Chicago real estate almost sells itself, and does its own talking. A syndicate of wealthy, representative men own Sheldon Heights, the highest, driest and best residence property in Chicago. They want one first-class real estate man (only) to represent them in this town and vicinity. Don't "putter" along with little things in boom towns—handle something you can turn easily. Location; price; terms—are all attractive and right. Chicago is getting one new permanent inhabitant every nine minutes. This makes a lively demand for good residence property. A live, progressive man, with a following, can learn of a business opening of a very profitable nature by writing to-day to Jas. E. & Robt. L. McElroy, Chamber of Commerce, Chicago, provided the name of this paper is mentioned.

PEACE REIGNS AGAIN.

Mr. and Mrs. Drayton now Speak as They Pass By.

New York, June 28.—All doubts concerning the reconciliation of Mr. and Mrs. J. Coleman Drayton were set at rest by the announcement that they will meet today at the Astor mansion.

An intimate friend of Mr. Drayton said yesterday that the reconciliation between the couple was earnestly desired by Mrs. Astor. The first important move was accomplished by having them meet to discuss even a foreign subject. They did meet and had several conferences.

The great objection came from Mr. Drayton, who thought he was injured beyond repair. But by constant urging and skillful work the family have at last procured a practical settlement of the whole matter.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Youngstown, O., June 28.—Cashier Roberts, of the Hubbard Banking Co., at Hubbard, attempted suicide at his home with a revolver in his desire to escape from domestic troubles. The bullet plowed a deep furrow through the flesh, making an ugly scalp wound, which will probably not prove fatal.

When a Woman Proposes to wash clothes without Pearline, her husband or her employer ought to interfere. She is not only wearing out her own health and strength with useless rubbing and scrubbing, but she is wearing out the clothes with it, too. This rub, rub, rub isn't needed. Put Pearline into the water, and you'll find half the work done by the time you are ready to begin. It's Pearline that loosens the dirt and does the work—not you with your washboard. Just a little rinsing—and it's all over.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled. if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back. 339 JAMES PYLE, New York.

PICKINGS FROM PUCK.

Maud (in dismay)—Oh, no! not that horrid thing.

Jack (in surprise)—And why not, dearest?

Maud (blushing violently)—It makes the lips so hard.

Oh, for the wings of a dove,
Just for a wee little week!
I'd go and exhibit myself,
And make a big pile as a freak.

Rowne de Bout—What did your wife say when you got home last night, Cross?

Chris Cross—First tell me how much time you have to spare.

Rowne de Bout—About ten minutes.

Chris Cross—Then I can't tell you.

Sue—Fred, you have been drinking.

Fred—I thought love was blind.

Sue—It is; but blindness makes the sense of smell more acute.

The goodnight kiss he gave her at the door
He'd fain repeat, encore and still encore,
Till she assures him, very firmly, that he's Mistaken if he thinks all farewells are like Patti's.

Tourist (in Kentucky)—That genteleman sitting over there is the most taciturn person I ever encountered. Though I have tried almost every imaginable subject of conversation, I am utterly unable to draw him out.

Landlord—That's Col. Gore; try a corkscrew, suh.

My girl just dotes upon ice cream;
Withal, she has a heart—
To help me save, she said: "Now, Charles,
Do get it by the quart!"

Tantivy Tooler—I see the Tribune says that scrapping match was "a very tame affair," I understand it ended in a knock out!

Jack Lever—Yes; the religious editor had the assignment, and he's taken in so many church conventions, lately, that he expects altogether too much.

CURIOSITIES ABOUT AMBER.

amber exhibits no peculiarities of texture when examined by the most perfect microscope. On the other hand, if opaque or white amber be cut into thin slices and examined by a microscope of from 200 to 500 diameters, round and oblong cavities of varying sizes may be observed in the interior. The cavities in milk-white amber are smallest; in the clear yellow there are absolutely none, while in the opaque yellow varieties they have the appearance of a collection of miniature soap bubbles. Water appears to be contained in these minute cavities, for if fresh amber be exposed to intense heat for some minutes it very sensibly diminishes in weight. from this it would appear that this peculiar fossilized resin will admit of water diffusing through its substance. Another oddity in this connection (taking the above into consideration) is the fact that the insects found in it are always perfectly dry.

THE INCANDESCENT.

Mr. Hartridge, surgeon to the Westminster Ophthalmic Hospital, has been devoting a study to the various forms of artificial illuminations and their effects on the eyes, and he has come to the conclusion that the electric incandescent light—which he carefully distinguishes from the more powerful arc light—possesses advantages that no other illuminator can claim. Mr. Hartridge takes good and sufficient sunlight to be the standard of illumination best suited to the eyes, and he shows by analysis that the incandescent electric light comes nearest to it. It combines, moreover, the maximum of illumination with the minimum of heat and no products of combustion. The chief difficulty in using it is described as being that of placing the lights in the best positions with regard to the requirements of the room. In all cases the lights should, we are warned, be shaded either by having the glasses containing the light cut or ground, or by covering them with some thin material.—London Daily News.

THE CROSS OF CHRIST.

Dr. Talmage's Sermon in London.

The World's Darkest Day Was When the Carnage of Calvary Was Enacted.

London, June 28.—Dr. Talmage preached by special invitation of Rev. Joseph Parker, the celebrated English divine, in the City Temple Sunday forenoon. Long before the opening hour a dense mass of people besieged the doors of the temple. Women fainted during the struggle for entrance..

Dr. Talmage entitles his sermon, "The Immense Cost," from text, 1 Cor. vi:20, "Ye are bought with a price."

Your friend takes you through his valuable house. You examine the arches, the frescoes, the grass-plots, the fish-ponds, the conservatories, the parks of deer, and you say within yourself or you say aloud: "What did all this cost?" You see a costly diamond flashing in an earring, or you hear a costly dress rustling across the drawing-room, or you see a high-mettled span of horses harnessed with silver and gold, and you begin to make an estimate of the value.

The man who owns a large estate cannot instantly tell you all it is worth. He says: "I will estimate so much for the house, so much for the furniture, so much for the stock, so much for the barn, so equipage—adding up all in making this aggregate."

Well, my friends, I hear so much about our mansion in heaven, about its furniture and the great surroundings, that I want to know how much it is all worth, and what has actually been paid for it. I cannot complete in a month nor a year the magnificent calculation, but before I get through to-day I hope to give you the figures. "Ye are bought with a price."

With some friends I went to your Tower to look at the crown jewels. We walked around; caught one glimpse of them, and being in the procession were compelled to pass out. I wish that I could take this audience into the tower of God's mercy and strength, that you might walk around just once, at least, and see the crown jewels of eternity, behold their brilliance, and estimate their value. "Ye are bought with a price."

Now if you have a large amount of money to pay, you do not pay it all at once, but you pay it by installments—so much the first of January, so much the first of April, so much the first of July, so much the first of October, until the entire amount is paid, and I have to tell the audience that "you have been bought with a price," and that that price was paid in different installments.

The first installment paid for the clearance of our souls was the ignominious birth of Christ in Bethlehem. Though we may never be carefully looked after afterward, our advent into the world is carefully guarded. We came into the world amid kindly attentions. Privacy and silence are afforded when God launches an immortal soul into the world. Even the roughest of men know enough to stand back. But I have to tell you that in the village on the side of the hill there was a very bedlam of uproar when Jesus was born. In a village capable of accommodating only a few hundred people, many thousand people were crowded; and amid hostlers and muleteers and camel-drivers yelling at stupid beasts of burden the Messiah appeared. No silence. No privacy. A better adapted place hath the eagle in the eyrie—hath the whelp in the lion's lair. The exile of heaven lieth down upon straw. The first night out from the palace of heaven spent in an outhouse! One hour after laying aside the robes of heaven, dressed in a wrapper of coarse linen. One would have supposed that Christ would have made a more gradual descent, coming from heaven first to a half way world of great magnitude, then to Caesar's palace, then to a private home in Bethany, then to a fisherman's hut, and last of all to a stable. No! It was one leap from the top to the bottom.

Let us open the door of the caravansary in Bethlehem and drive away the camels. Press on through the group of idlers and loungers. What, O Mary! no light? "No light," she says, "save that which comes through the door." What, Mary, no food? "None," she says, "only that which was brought in the sack on the journey." Let the Bethlehem woman who has come in here with kindly attentions put back the covering from the babe that we may look upon it. Look! Look! Uncover your head. Let all the voices be hushed. Son of Mary! Son of God! Child of a day—Monarch of eternity! In that eye the glance of a God. Omnipotence sheathed in that babe's arm. That voice to be changed from the feeble plaint to the tone that shall wake the dead. Hosanna! Hosanna! Glory be to God that Jesus came from throne to manger, that we might rise from the manger to throne, and that all the gates are open, and that the door of heaven, that once swung this way to let Jesus out, now swings the other way to let us in. Let all the bellmen of heaven lay hold the rope and ring out the news: "Behold, I bring you glad tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people: for to-day is born in the city of David a Savour, which is Christ the Lord!"

The second installment paid for our soul's clearance was the scene in Quarantania, a mountainous region, full of caverns, where there are to this day panthers and wild beasts of all sorts, so that you must now go there armed with knife, or gun, or pistol. It was there that Jesus went to think and to pray, and it was there that this monster of hell—more sly, more terrific, than anything that prowled in that country—Satan himself, met Christ.

The rose in the cheek of Christ—that Publius Lentullus, in his letter to the Roman senate, ascribed to Jesus—that rose had scattered its petals. Abstinence from food had thrown him into emaciation. A long abstinence from food recorded in profane history is that of the crew of the ship Juno; for twenty-three days they had nothing to eat. But this sufferer had fasted a month and ten days before he broke fast. Hunger must have agonized every fiber of the body and gnawed on the stomach with teeth or death. The thought of a morsel of bread or meat must have thrilled the body with something like ferocity. Turn out a body of men hungry as Christ was hungered, and if they had strength with one yell they would devour you as a lion a kid. It was in that pang of hunger that Jesus was accosted, and Satan said: "Now change these stones, which look like bread, into an actual supply of bread." Had the temptation come to you and me, under those circumstances we would have cried, "Bread it shall be!" and been almost impatient at the time taken for mastication; but Christ with one hand beat back the hunger, and with the other hand beat back the monarch of darkness. O, ye tempted ones! Christ was tempted. We are told that Napoleon ordered a coat of mail made; but he was not quite certain that it was impenetrable, so he said to the manufacturer of the coat of mail: "Put it on yourself, and let us try it;" and with shot after shot from his own pistol the emperor found that it was just what it pretended to be—a good coat of mail. Then the man received a large reward.

I bless God that the same coat of mail that struck back the weapons of temptation from the head of Christ we may all wear, for Jesus comes and says: "I have been tempted, and I know what it is to be tempted. Take this robe that defended me, and wear it for yourselves. I shall see you through all trials and I shall see you through all temptation."

"But," says Satan, still further to Jesus, "Come, and I will show you something worth looking at," and after a half day's journey they came to Jerusalem, and to the top of the temple. Just as one might go up in the tower of Antwerp and look off upon Belgium, so Satan took Christ to the top of the temple. Some people at a great height feel dizzy, and a strange disposition to jump; so Satan comes to Christ in that very crisis. Standing there at the top of the temple they looked off. A magnificent reach of country. Grain fields, vineyards, olive groves, forests and streams, cattle in the valley, flocks on the hills, and villages and cities and realms. "Now," says Satan, "I'll make a bargain. Just jump off. I know it is a great way from the top of the temple to the valley, but if you are divine you can fly. Jump off. It won't hurt you. Angels will catch you. Besides, I'll make you a present if you will. I'll give you Asia Minor, I'll give you China, I'll give you Ethiopia, I'll give you Italy, I'll give you Spain, I'll give you Germany, I'll give you Britain, I'll give you all the world." What a temptation it must have been!

Go to-morrow morning and get in an altercation with some wretch crawling up from a gin cellar in the lowest part of your city. "No," you say, "I would not bemean myself by getting into such a contest." Then think of what the King of heaven and earth endured when he came down and fought the great wretch of hell, and fought him in the wilderness and on top of the temple. But I bless God that in the triumph over temptation Christ gives us the assurance that we also shall triumph. Having himself been tempted, he is able to succor all those who are tempted. In a violent storm at sea the mate told a boy—for the rigging had become entangled at the mast—to go up and right it. A gentleman standing on the deck said: "Don't send that boy up; he will be dashed to death." The mate said: "I know what I am about." The boy raised his hat in recognition of the order and then rose hand over hand and went to work; and as he swung in the storm the passengers wrung their hands and expected to see him fall. The work done he came down in safety; and a Christian man said to him: "Why did you go down in the forecastle before you went up?" "Ah!" said the boy. "I went down to pray. My mother always taught me before I undertook anything great to pray." "What is that you have in your vest?" said the man. "Oh, that is the "New Testament," he said: "I thought I would carry it with me if I really did go overboard." How well the boy was protected! I care not how great the height or vast the depth, with Christ with us and Christ beneath us and Christ above us and Christ all around us, nothing can befall us in the way of harm. Christ himself having been in the tempest will deliver all those who put their trust in him. Blessed be his glorious name forever.

WHITNEY FOR CHAIRMAN

This Seems to be the Democratic Program.

Philadelphia Would Much Like to See W. F. Harrity in the Place.

Philadelphia, June 28.—The announcement from Washington that ex-Secretary W. C. Whitney is Mr. Cleveland's choice for chairman of the new national committee causes considerable surprise among local democrats, and especially those who were delegates to the Chicago convention, as there had been a general impression that W. F. Harrity, of this city, would be chosen for that important position, and that the management of the democratic and of the coming campaign would be directed from the Quaker city.

He was the unanimous choice of a number of members of the new committee who were interviewed, while several of the Cleveland leaders expressed the opinion that no better selection could be made. Some time between Cleveland's nomination at 4 o'clock in the morning and the afternoon or final session of the convention, however, something occurred —some say that it was advice from Cleveland himself—to induce these same leaders to be less enthusiastic regarding the choice of the Pennsylvanian, and hence the adoption in the closing moments of the convention of the resolution authorizing and empowering the national committee to select as its chairman, and as the chairman of the executive committee, persons who are not members of the national committee.

Should Mr. Whitney be the next chairman he will be regarded as the personal mouth-piece of Grover Cleveland, and the latter will be to all intents and purposes the actual manager of his own campaign.

LOOKING INTO THE DEATH

Of the Celebrated Mind Reader Bishop.

The Three Doctors Who Held the Autopsy Will Have a Hearing.

New York, June 28.—The case of Drs. Frank Ferguson, John Arthur Irwin and Irwin Hanse, who are under indictment on the charge of holding an illegal dissection upon the body of mind reader Washington Irving Bishop, is on the trial calendar of the court of general sessions to-day.

Bishop died suddenly at the Lands club, on the morning of May 13, 1889, just after he had given an exhibition of mind reading. Early next morning the three doctors named made an autopsy without permission of the coroner, or of Bishop's mother, his nearest living relative.

His skull was opened, and it was found that his brain weighed 40 ounces, and was badly congested.

A certificate was given that death was due to hystero-catalepsy. The mother of the mind reader after vainly endeavoring to procure the indictment of the doctors for murder was successful in procuring the present indictment.

She claims that her son was in a cataleptic trance, and will produce witnesses who will testify that they heard Bishop cry out "Help" as the surgeon's saw entered his brain. The defense is that the unfortunate man was dead beyond question when the autopsy was made.

WANTED TO DIE.

St. Marys, O., June 28.—(Special)—Emanuel Baker, who has occupied a cell in the city prison for the past few days, charged with drunkenness, made an ineffectual attempt to hang himself last night with his suspenders.

"This is a very paneful affair," remraked the man as the sash fell on him.

FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,
38 & 40 W. Gay St., one block N. of State House, Columbus, O. Incorporated, 1886. Capital, $300,000.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, of New York, the well known and successful Specialists in Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Eye and Ear, on account of their large practice in Ohio, have established the FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, where all forms of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases will be successfully treated on the most Scientific principles. They are ably assisted by a full corps of eminent Physicians and Surgeons, each one being a well known specialist in his profession
CANCER positively cured without pain or use of the knife, by a new method.
IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. FRANCE, after years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by the new remedy, OLIVE BLOSSOM. The cure is effected by home treatment. Entirely harmless and easily applied. Consultation Free and Strictly Confidential. Correspondence promptly answered.

YOUNG MEN—Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with confidence.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases (and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, [illegible] has been marked, over two-thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, [illegible]. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.

MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or those contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed. Medicines sent free from observation to all parts of the United States.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS—Positively cured by a new and never-failing method. Testimonials furnished.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine (that passed first in the morning preferred), which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination, and if requested a written analysis will be given.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately. Delays are dangerous.

WONDERFUL CURES Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but where possible, personal consultation is preferred. Curable cases guaranteed. No risks incurred.

Cases and correspondence confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of U. S. List of 130 questions free. Address, with postage, DR. FRANCE, Nos. 32 and 40 W. Gay St., Columbus, O.

HIGH MOUNTAINS IN AMERICA.

Among the other great things in this country, the number of its high mountains is a remarkable feature.

Including those of Alaska, there are 300 mountains in the United States each exceeding 10,000 feet in height.

Most are in the Rocky and Sierra Nevada ranges, and the greatest number are found in Colorado and Utah.

In Alaska, however, are the highest, there being in that territory five, which each exceed 15,000 feet, and Mt. Elias, also in Alaska and 19,500 feet high, is the loftiest peak in the United States territory.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Steamship Miranda Sails in Search of Lieut. Peary's Band of Explorers.

New York, June 28.—The steamship Miranda, of the Red Cross line, with the Peary relief party on board, sailed for St. Johns, Newfoundland, from Brooklyn, at 5 o'clock last evening.

The party expects to bring back Engineer Robert E. Peary, of the U. S. Navy, and his party, if alive in October. The Miranda, which is commanded by Capt. H. C. Leseman, carried 40 passengers. The expedition was fitted out by the Academy of Natural Scientists of Philadelphia, and is headed by Prof. Angelo Heilprin, of that city.

The party will leave the Miranda at St. Johns, and go on board the sealing steamship Kite, which is under command of the experienced Arctic navigator, Capt. Richard Pike.

The Kite will go direct to Greeland. The voyagers are generally sanguine of success. They hoped to to find Engineer Peary at his headquarters in McCormick bay early in August, and they might reach there before that time. They didn't expect to be away later than the last week of September.

FOOLED THE BOYS.

The Practical Joker Will Probably Die From His Wounds.

Van Wert, O., June 28.—A practical joker who attempted to scare three boys whom he met along the railroad near Convoy, a small place just west of here, Sunday evening, is lying at the point of death from the effects of a gunshot wound.

B. L. Richie, a prominent school teacher, attempted to scare his cousin, Sherley Longsworth, and two half-brothers by assuming the role of a tramp.

Young Longsworth, a lad of 14, had a flobert gun loaded with a twenty-two calibre short, which he drew and fired at the supposed tramp. The boys then took to their heels and ran to the nearest house, where they gave the information that they had shot a tramp.

The unfortunate man was soon borne to the house of Dr. Longsworth, father of the boy who did the shooting, where an examination was made. The ball entered near the region of the heart and lodged under the shoulder blade. Probing failed to dislodge the ball and it is feared the man will die, as the wound is an ugly one. No blame is attached to the boys.

SHE WAS 126 YEARS OLD

And Was a Great-Great-Great Grandmother.

Clarksville, Tenn., June 28.—Aunt Nancy Martin, known to have been 112 years of age, but claimed by good authority to have been 126, died yesterday. She was the oldest woman, so far as known, in Tennessee, having removed from North Carolina when 18 years old, and had lived in Montgomery county nearly a century. Five generations of her children lived in the same neighborhood with her at the time of her death.
